Thousands Flee Hurricane Eloise

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Eloise slammed into Florida's central panhandle with raging surf and lashing rains today, then rushed inland, spawning tornadoes and carrying with it the threat of flooding.

With punishing winds up to 130 miles per hour, Eloise thundered ashore between Fort Walton Beach and Panama City before sunrise, wreaking havoc in both cities and in a 40-mile stretch between.

But as its vanguard crossed land, winds began to wane.

"With the hurricane over land, its strength should weaken rapidly," said Neil Frank, director of the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "The major threat now is tornadoes, heavy thunderstorms and the flooding they can cause."

At 10 a.m. EDT, Eloise's still-dangerous winds had dropped to 100 m.p.h. The hurricane's center was located about 45 miles southwest of Dothan, Ala., near latitude 31.0 north and longitude 86.2 west.

Trees, power lines and billboards toppled before the onslaught, and the area was plunged into darkness in the gray dawn as power transformers exploded in brilliant showers of blue-green sparks.

Thousands of people along a 100-mile stretch of shoreline had fled in a last-minute rush to escape the oncoming fury of the storm in the darkness of early morning.

In Panama City, a truss manufacturing plant caught fire, from what officials said was either a leaking gas line or a downed electrical circuit. Firemen tried to fight the blaze in screaming winds and rain.

Three tornadoes were reported in the Fort Walton area. One destroyed a house and ripped the roofs off half a dozen others, but no injuries were reported.

Surf riding the abnormally high tides crashed across the unprotected sand dunes of the summer resort area, ripping up roads and highways and undermining the foundations of homes, condominiums and motels built dangerously close to the sea.

U.S. 89, running along the coast for nearly 200 miles from Apalachicola Bay to Pensacola on the far western edge of the panhandle, was reported breaking up under the waves in many places.

No storm-related injuries were reported immediately, but communications were down in many areas and an accounting of the safety of residents would have to wait the hurricane's passage.

Given only a few brief hours of warning, residents of low-lying areas jammed highways leading inland, many of them fleeing in sleepwear covered by raincoats.

It wasn't until early this morning that county officials issued evacuation orders for people living along the coast, bays, bayous and other low areas.

Sheriff's deputies, police, firemen and others began going house-to-house, warning residents to flee to shelters on higher ground.

Part of the delay in issuing the warning was due to the rapidly shifting course and growing strength of Eloise, which already has left 42 persons dead on two Caribbean islands.

"This is a major storm," said Miles Lawrence of the National Hurricane Center in Miami. "It's nothing to be taken lightly."

The center described Eloise as a "Category 3" storm on a scale of one to five, with the highest number representing the worst hurricanes on record. And it warned that Eloise could grow still stronger.

Early this morning, Eloise was about 150 miles south of Pensacola, Fla., on the far western edge of Florida's panhandle.

Earlier, it had been predicted to go ashore near Pensacola, but its new position had it aiming for land at least 80 miles farther east along the panhandle.

Monday night, Eloise lashed the coasts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and far western Florida with gales, torrential rauns and pounding surf as it swung from a northerly course to a more easterly direction that swept it in a grazing crescent.

With Eloise on a new course, the threat to other Gulf Coast states appeared all but ended.

Thousands had evacuated homes Monday in the marshy lowlands of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, where many residents still recall Hurricane Camille.

But in Florida, which has been spared a major storm for more than a decade, many residents unfamiliar with the fury of a hurricane were reluctant to leave their seaside homes and condominiums.

Officials said some residents of recently developed Santa Rose, facing the Gulf of Mexico off Pensacola, refused to seek the safety of higher ground on the mainland.

TALL PUMP—This hand pump, while appearing very long of pipe, is actually short of dirt. The pump, located on land owned by the Sturm and Dillard Co., was once used to furnish water to a dwelling there. But, the dirt that used to make it ground level has been shipped off to fill the site of the new Sewage Treatment Plant currently being constructed on Route 22.

Words Haunt Patty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patty Hearst's own words may haunt her if defense attorneys try to contend the newspaper heiress remained an unwilling hostage during her 19-month odyssey with the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army.

A bail hearing was scheduled in U.S. District Court here today, and Miss Hearst's attorneys say she will testify or submit an affadavit in a bid for freedom on bail.

Miss Hearst has been held without bail since last Friday, when it was revoked by a judge who cited her taped statements and revolutionary rhetoric.

At that time, U.S. Attorney James L. Browning revealed the government planned to use Miss Hearst's own words to prosecute bank robbery and weapons charges here. He also pointed out that a pistol was found in her purse and two carbines were found in the closet of the apartment where she was arrested Thursday with another federal fugitive.

In taped communiques, the 21-year-old Miss Hearst has admitted participating in a bank robbery and repeatedly denied she had been brainwashed into joining the SLA, which kidnaped her Feb. 4, 1974.

Authorities say Patty sprayed a Los Angeles sporting goods store with automatic weapons fire May 16, 1974 to help two SLA members escape arrest for shoplifting. She is accused of kidnaping an 18-year-old youth the same day.

Miss Hearst and Wendy Yoshimura, wanted on a 1972 guns and explosives charges, were captured at an apartment here last Thursday. SLA members Emilly and Bill Harris were arrested earlier the same day outside their apartment, about 2½ miles away.

Both the Harrises and Miss Hearst face federal charges here and state charges in Los Angeles.

If convicted of bank robbery, Miss Hearst would face up to 35 years in prison. She and the Harrises also face federal firearms charges with maximum sentences of 10 years in prison and $10,000 fines.

Nineteen Los Angeles County charges have been filed against Miss Hearst and 18 against the Harrises. In addition, federal prosecutors say the trio probably also will be indicted on new charges stemming from weapons and explosives found in the two SLA apartments here.

Miss Yoshimura, 32, was arraigned Monday on four weapons and explosives charges. Her bail remained $250,000, and she was scheduled to enter a plea Oct. 6 in Alameda County Superior Court.

Stephen Soliah, 27, who reportedly rented the apartment where Miss Yoshimura and Miss Hearst were captured, has been charged with harboring a fugitive.

Woman Held; Shot At Ford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 45-year-old mother charged with firing a shot at President Ford as he left a downtown hotel faces a hearing today to determine whether her sanity should be tested. A Marine veteran deflected the gun and the President was not hurt.

Sara Jane Moore, 45, a onetime paid informer for the FBI with connections to various Bay Area radical groups, was seized Monday after she fired a .38-caliber revolver at Ford. It was the second attempt on Ford's life in 17 days.

Police said Mrs. Moore, a plump, greying brunette, had been picked up by officers with a .44-calibre revolver in her hand Sunday and interrogated by the Secret Service because her name appeared on a "questionable list" of persons believed possible threats to the President. The gun was confiscated and she was released.

The President had been waving to thousands of cheering spectators outside the St. Francis Hotel when the shot rang out like a firecracker about 35 feet away.

Secret Service agents quickly pushed him into his bullet-proof limousine, where he crouched below window level as the motorcade raced off at top speed for the airport with sirens wailing.

Presidential adviser Donald Rumsfeld said later in Washington that Ford was not wearing a bullet proof vest. He first appeared in one during a public appearance in New Hampshire, a few days after Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme pulled a gun two feet from him in Sacramento, Calif., on Sept. 5. The gun did not fire.

U. S. Magistrate Owen Woodruff ordered Mrs. Moore to appear at the hearing today. She was arraigned Monday evening and ordered held on $500,000 bond.

Woodruff set today's hearing after U.S. Atty. James L. Browning asked Mrs. Moore be given a mental examination "in consideration of the bizarre nature of the offense and in view of the response she made to agents."

She faces a possible life sentence if convicted on the federal charge of trying to assassinate the President.

"She said that when the President came out she had a clear shot and a clear view and she was astounded she had so much time," said Patrolman William Taylor, who was present when Mrs. Moore was questioned in the hotel.

"She said she fired and realized she had aimed high," Taylor said. "She said she didn't get a chance for a second shot because she was immediately set upon. She said if she had had a .44-caliber gun she would have hit him."

Police said Oliver Sipple, a 33-year-old ex-Marine from San Francisco, struck the chromeplated revolver just as it discharged, causing the bullet to ricochet and strike another spectator, John M. Ludwig. Ludwig, a 41-year-old San Francisco cab driver, was treated at a local hospital for a superficial groin wound and released.

Dozens of police and Secret Service agents waded into the crowd and wrestled Mrs. Moore to the ground. They pulled her back across the street, handcuffed and her nose bleeding, into the hotel for questioning.

"They carried her bodily through the crowd," said Joseph K.P. Armin, a Jaycee chauffeur in the presidential motorcade. "They had to, the crowd was so hostile. The crowd was ready to lunge at her themselves." Several persons yelled "Kill the bastard!" as police led the captive away.

An unemployed divorcee with a 9-year-old son, Mrs. Moore was identified by the FBI as a "possible security informant" who furnished information to the bureau on a regular basis from June 1974 to June 1975 and on a few occasions thereafter in return for expenses.

Browning didn't elaborate on what responses of Mrs. Moore's he felt warranted psychiatric tests. But San Francisco Police Sgt. William Taylor said that after her arrest Mrs. Moore told officers "she didn't know why she shot at the President."

Police Officer Timothy J. Hettrich, 26, who wrenched the gun from Mrs. Moore's hand after the shot, said he was standing across the street from her and "was frozen for a moment" when he saw her fire.

He said, "I grabbed the cylinder of the gun to disable it, and twisted it away from her."

Stephen Weicker, one of several Junior Chamber of Commerce officials who drove presidential staff cars, said that immediately after the shot, "We were told to drive as fast as the cars would go, all the way around Union Square and onto the freeway."

Secrecy Fight Continues In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, fighting a dual battle with Congress over secrecy, is defying congressional subpoenas for documents on U.S. intelligence operations and the Arab boycott against Israel.

House Intelligence Committee Chairman Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., said Monday "all my indications are" that Ford will not turn over subpoenaed documents to the committee.

Ford cut off both documents and witnesses to the committee two weeks ago after it disclosed that U.S. intelligence monitored Egyptian communications before the 1973 Mideast war.

On the second front, Secretary of Commerce Rogers C. B. Morton refused Monday to comply with a House subcommittee's subpoena for names of U.S. companies involved in the Arab boycott against Israel.

Morton said the subpoena would force him to break Congress' own law protecting confidentiality of business information that his department gleans from documents filed by U.S. exporters.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House commerce oversight subcommittee, called the administration's refusal to comply with the subpeonas issued by his committee and Pike's panel "a pattern of executive arrogance." Moss said he welcomes a confrontation.

Both the Moss and Pike committees are taking basically the same position: that Congress has the right to obtain any information from the administration. Pike's committee adds that Congress also has the right to make public any of that information.

But the administration's arguments are not the same in the two cases. It contends the Arab boycott information's confidentiality was mandated by Congress itself. The administration refuses to turn over the intelligence information on grounds Ford as commander in chief is responsible for its protection.

Ford To Continue His Travels

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, declaring that he will not cower before would-be assassins, plans to continue his campaign-style travels despite congressional fears and questions raised by a security breach one Republican called incredible.

Ford's second encounter in 17 days with a gun-wielding woman in California, this one punctuated by the crack of a pistol shot that missed, raised one central question:

How could it happen?

This time, the attempt on the President's life was made by a woman who managed to get within 40 feet of Ford carrying a .38-caliber pistol — despite the fact that the Secret Service had questioned her Sunday as a potential threat to his safety. Ford was not wearing a protective vest at the time the shot was fired.

Released Sunday not only from custody but also, apparently, from any surveillance, Sara Jane Moore, 45, was waiting when Ford emerged from the St. Francis Hotel late Monday.

San Francisco police, who also questioned her Sunday, had seized a pistol from her then, but she had a new one Monday, just purchased. According to the FBI, Mrs. Moore later said she was surprised that she had so much time for the attempt.

Like Lynette Alice Fromme, who had pointed a pistol at Ford from two feet away as he shook hands in Sacramento Sept. 5, Mrs. Moore was known to local authorities as a political extremist. The FBI said she had once been a paid informant for them.

Unlike Miss Fromme, Mrs. Moore fired. The President had spent less than two minutes all day before open, outdoor crowds. He was about to enter his bullet-proof limousine to head for the airport and Washington.

It became a high-speed ride, the President on the floor, shielded by his bodyguards. But that precaution, like the weapons searches at his indoor stops earlier in the day, did not come at the moment of peril.

The incident prompted congressional demands for an investigation — and one for a shakeup — of the Secret Service.

It also led members of Congress and rival presidential candidates to urge that the President curtail his public appearances and his handshaking forays into the crowds he attracts.

But Ford, back at the White House just before midnight, said that would be capitulating to violence, and he vowed not to do it. He said Americans have a right to see their President and shake his hand. "Under no circumstances will I ... capitulate to those who want to undercut what's good in America," Ford said.

Furthermore, Ford had only commendation for the Secret Service. "Let me say most emphatically, I thank the Secret Service for doing a super job again," he said. "They really were tremendous in the things that they did that were necessary and essential."

Vets Day Back To Nov. 11 In '78

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Ford has signed legislation returning Veterans Day to Nov. 11 beginning in 1978.

The new law, which a White House spokesman said Ford signed last weekend, ends the practice established by Congress of celebrating the holiday on the last Monday of October.

The holiday honors the nation's military veterans.

Bank Robbery And Murder May Be Linked With SLA

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Law enforcement officials are taking a new look at an April bank robbery-murder for possible links with some of the revolutionary comrades of Patricia Hearst.

Sources told The Associated Press that evidence seized in connection with the arrests of Miss Hearst and four of her associates in San Francisco last week was considered at a meeting Monday of three top officials in the state capital.

If prosecutors were to decide a link between the bank robbery and the SLA exists, it would raise the possibility that some members of the terrorist group might be charged with murder, the most serious accusation yet.

On April 21, three men and a woman — wearing ski masks — robbed a branch of the Crocker Bank in suburban Carmichael of $13,000.

One of the men fired his shotgun at a bank customer, 42-year-old Myrna Opsahl, who bled to death from her wound. Officials said there was "no reason at all" for the shooting.

The officials who met Monday, Sacramento FBI agent-in-charge Paul Young, Sacramento County Sheriff Duane Lowe and U.S. Atty. Duane Keyes, also discussed two sketches of suspects in the case.

There was no official comment on the continuing investigation of the Carmichael robbery. But the sources told The AP that the sketches closely resembled some of the individuals currently linked to the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnaped Miss Hearst on Feb. 4, 1974. They would not identify which individuals were being discussed.

The sketches — of a white woman between 25 and 35 with brown hair and glasses and a white man in his 20s with blond hair and a mustache — were released by the FBI in June. The drawings were based on descriptions given by the landlords who rented Sacramento garages where the stolen cars used in the robbery were hidden.

Police said in April that a fifth person may have been waiting outside the bank in a second getaway car.

An apparently unsent communique claiming responsiblity for the robbery by the New World Liberation Front reportedly was found in one of the apartments searched after the arrests of Miss Hearst, William and Emily Harris, Wendy Yoshimura and Steve Soliah in San Francisco.

Authorities are known to be checking for links between the NWLF, SLA and a series of bombings in the San Francisco Bay area.

Senate Eyes Internal Intelligence

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence agencies ignored a presidential decision to revoke the so-called Huston Plan authorizing illegal and unconstitutional methods of gathering domestic intelligence, the chairman of the Senate Intelligence Committee said today.

"The decision of the President seemed to matter little," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho said. The CIA, FBI and other intelligence agencies "continued the very practices for which they had sought presidential authority" in the Huston Plan, Church said as the committee began a second week of public hearings.

The Huston Plan, drafted by former White House aide Tom Charles Huston and signed by former CIA Director Richard M. Helms, the late FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover and the heads of the Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency, authorized break-ins, wiretaps and mail openings to gather domestic intelligence. Huston was the lead-off witness at today's hearing.

The plan, which was briefly implemented in July 1970 but officially withdrawn five days later by former President Richard M. Nixon at the insistence of Hoover and then Atty.-Gen. John N. Mitchell, "was only an episode in the lawlessness which preceded and followed its brief existence," Church said.

Jewels Stolen; Worth $100,000

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Thieves apparently broke into a parked van over the weekend and got away with an estimated $100,000 in jewels, police reported Monday.

Al Ramsay, a self-employed antique salesman from suburban Avondale, told police he was on his way to a gem show and had left the van filled with his display items.

Murphy's Mart To Open Oct. 9

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the new Murphy's Mart in Circleville Thursday, October 9, 1975, marks the opening of the company's 529th store and the seventh Murphy's Mart in Ohio. Others are located in Boardman, Warren, Gallipolis, Kent, Austintown, and Franklin. The 69-year old general merchandise chain operates retail outlets in 24 states and the District of Columbia.

The new store is located on the east side of Circleville on Court Street, approximately one mile from the downtown business area. Encompassing 45,930 square feet with 30,540 square feet of selling space, the one-stop shopping complex includes an indoor-outdoor seasonal shop, an automotive car care center, a restaurant with seating capacity for 46 persons, and a snack bar.

The mart has been developed to meet the needs and demands of today's and tomorrow's customers for mass merchandising of quality, higher ticket assortments at competitive discount prices.

Merchandising, display, promotion, credit, personnel, checkout and other store features have been refined and improved for this large Murphy operation.

The Circleville Murphy's Mart, a one-floor store, operates on the checkout principle with shopping carts provided for customer convenience. A battery of six checkout counters located at the front entrance and one in the seasonal shop assures prompt, efficient service.

The new retail complex is designed for maximum customer shopping ease with merchandise lines displayed in related groups, according to natural shopping habits. Included in the groupings, which contain items for all members of the family and for the home, are Fashion Accessories, Fashion Apparel, Men's & Boys' Furnishings, including a Young Men's Shop, Music — TV — Photo, Writings and Wrappings, Knit'n Stitch — Fabrics — Home Furnishings — Domestics, Housewares, Toys and Hobbies, Sweets'n Eats, Tobacco Shop, Sporting Goods and Auto Accessories. The Tobacco Shop is located at the "express" checkout counter near the store front.

Four promotional aisles for bargain tables, two extending from the entrance of the store to the rear, one across the front of the store, and the other across the back of the store, will feature individual item specials.

The overall look of the store is that of masses of merchandise. The company's planners, according to manager H. P. Rumbaugh, have designed new fixtures intended to present the maximum amount of merchandise exposure per counter foot.

Company officials say the Murphy's Mart concept permits the broadening of assortments and the expansion of lines that are regularly carried in conventional stores. The mart also displays more national brand names along with Murphy's own brands. A merchandise pick-up station is located at the rear for bulky items such as lawn mowers, TV's, bicycles, rugs and metal sheds.

The seasonal shop, an indoor-outdoor arrangement provides more than 1500 square feet of indoor sales space and an additional 1350 square feet of outside fenced area. Horticultural items, including evergreens, shrubs, house plants, fertilizers, lawn tools and mowers, and a complete line of garden tools are sold here. This area is used for Christmas and other seasonal selling during the winter.

Customer credit is available through established layaway service and bank charge plans.

G. C. Murphy Company had its origin in McKeesport, Pa. in 1906 when the late George C. Murphy opened his first store. In 1911, the firm had a total of 10 stores when J.S. Mack and W. C. Shaw purchased controlling interest. They instituted revolutionary ideas and the firm began to thrive and expand.

Murphy stores pioneered in the expansion of merchandise assortments, being the first in their field to add merchandise up to $1.00 in value. Today, there is virtually no limit to price ranges or lines of merchandise. Murphy officials describe this newest store as a "one-stop" shopping complex.

In order to furnish the latest in style merchandise to its 529 operating units, the Murphy Company operates a large Fashion Center in Jersey City, N. J., near the heart of the nation's garment industry. In addition, the company has an extensive merchandise Research Department in its home city in McKeesport, Pa. Four large distribution centers, in McKeesport, Pa, Indianapolis, Ind., Monroe, La. and Fredericksburg, Va. are utilized to provide a steady flow of staple merchandise to all stores.

G. C. Murphy Company is a Pennsylvania corporation with headquarters at 531 Fifth Avenue, McKeesport; Pa. Company sales for 1974 were $501.3 million, up 31 million from 1973.

Teays Valley Board Discusses Transfer Of Elementary Pupils

Several discussion items were on the agenda at Monday night's meeting at the Teays Valley Board of Education. The board met with several parents concerning the transfer of some students from one elementary school in the district to another.

As a result of the change, the board passed a resolution to employ an additional school bus driver for the morning run from the Gregory, Lockbourne Lodge and Plainview Trailer Court areas to Scioto School. In the afternoon, an extra run will be made from the Ashville School to South Bloomfield to relieve an overcrowded condition. The board also employed Marilyn Barr for the bus driver position. She has served as a substitute driver.

High school principal Bill Toney explained to some of the parents in attendance at the meeting the reasoning behind the elimination of the lunch programs at the high school and junior high school.

A discussion was also held with a representative from the village of Commercial Point concerning some drainage problems of joint concern along the school property lines and the village property.

The board has a policy whereby a teacher may receive additional salary for additional college credit. Upon approval of the work suggested by the teacher and documentation of that work when completed, teachers may apply for and receive up to $20 per quarter hour and $30 per semester hour to a maximum of 12 semester hours and 18 quarter hours within one year's time.

During Monday's meeting, the board approved a supplemental contract for Sharon Downard for summer course work in accordance with that policy.

Four other teachers were also approved for work for the fall term. They are Ms. Downard, Betty Midkiff, Patricia King and Anna Towler.

The board authorized the clerk-treasurer to renumerate those teachers who have completed courses this summer. Twenty-eight teachers took advantage of the board's policy. The extra work ranged from as little as two quarter hours to as much as 15 quarter hours.

Several teachers were also granted professional leave requests.

Miss Diana Flefer was employed as an elementary teacher to teach first grade at Scioto Elementary.

In other action, the board approved an investment and approved two transfers in the appropriation measure as recommended by the clerk-treasurer. Approval was also given for a contract with clerk-treasurer. Approval was also given for a contract with the satelite media center for the current school year.

The expenditure from the high school and junior high school activity account fund for the purchase of an outdoor message board was approved. The board will be placed in front of the flag pole.

All teacher and student handbooks were adopted as administrative procedure and board policy for the 1975-76 school year.

Approval was given to pay the registration expenses of any board member or administrator to attend the Ohio School Board Association's Capital Conference Nov. 10-13.

The board had a request from one of the school-related groups to allow a raffle. A long-standing policy exisits whereby the board prohibits raffles. In lieu of any action taken to the contrary, the policy stands.

An hourly rate of $6 was set for the after school driver education instruction and any other tutorial service on the part of teachers. The board then employed Robert Hoover on a supplemental contract at the set rate for after school driver instruction as needed.

The rates of taxation as tenatively set by the budget commission were accepted by the board of education.

Approval was given for a resolution which would require school to be in session on Jan. 19 which has been delegated as Martin Luther King day. The non-certificated personnel will also be required to work on that date. Jan. 30 was designated as a parent-teacher conference day and the board voted to grant that date as a compensatory day off to the non-certificated staff in lieu of Jan. 19.

Several matters were discussed with regards to maintenance and repair. The board passed a resolution to purchase a chain link fence and to have it installed around the newly blacktopped tennis court area.

Other items of maintenance included approval of paying the additional cost of backfilling with sand the area of installation of the fuel oil tank at the Ashville building. The board also agreed to pay the additional cost for anchoring and securing the tank.

A resolution was passed to secure prices and to carpet the speech and hearing therapy rooms at Walnut and Ashville Elementary Schools.

In final action, the board viewed a proposal for improved lighting of the parking area and building exterior at the high school site and instructed the administration to secure additional quotes which will be presented at the next regular board meeting on Oct. 27.

Autumn officially began today in Ohio, but cool fallish weather has persisted for the past week or more. The outlook is for temperatures to remain below normal for the rest of the week.

Highs Monday ranged from only 55 near Ashtabula to 62 in Cincinnati, and about the same can be expected today. today.

Ohio still is on the northern fringe of the rain associated with hurricane Eloise but weather in the state has been generally cloudy to partly cloudy with a little rain in the extreme southern tip.

The rain was expected to continue in southeastern Ohio today. As the remnants of the hurricane move northeastward, the winds in Ohio will be northerly tonight and Wednesday, keeping cool air over the area.

Temperatures tonight will drop to the low 50s and 40s. Readings Wednesday afternoon will be between 55 and 65 along with mostly cloudy skies and a chance of rain, mainly in the southeastern counties.

Seek Ruling On Disability

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William J. Brown urged the U.S. Supreme Court on Monday to rule that disability income insurance programs that exclude pregnancy-related disabilities discriminate against women.

"The State of Ohio is very interested in the outcome of this case because we have several cases pending in our office that raise the same issue," Brown said.

Brown encouraged the court to decide the issue in favor of women. He said the state employe disability income protection plan does cover pregnancy-related disabilities.

Brown commented in the case of Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. vs. Wetzel in which a Pennsylvania woman sued her insurance company for discrimination and won in two lower courts.

Ag Department To Battle Bribes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employes of the Agriculture Department have been ordered to take special training so that they can be better prepared to resist bribes or other illegal activities.

The directive, announced Monday by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, was prompted by "recently disclosed irregularities" involving questionable conduct of USDA employes in regulatory programs.

A spokesman said the reference included recent allegations that USDA supervisory personnel may have been involved in grain inspection irregulaities. But other cases, including federal meat inspectors and others, also have occurred from time to time, he said.

The directive put the training program in the hands of Joseph R. Wright, assistant secretary for administration, who said that 25 per cent of USDA's employes are directly engaged in regulatory, financial approval or certification responsibilities.

"These employes can make or disapprove loans, slow down a slaughter line or condemn a batch of meat, determine the grade of a shipment of grain or a truckload of produce, certify or reject conservation work ... even disqualify a horse for a show — or look the other way," Wright said.

In assuming such responsibilities, he said, "they may be subjected to subtle and not-so-subtle efforts to curry their favor and to influence their decisions," Wright said in a statement.

"This can range from repeated special favors, to small or large gifts and to outright offers of kickbacks and bribes."

However, the announcement said that "only a small fraction" of USDA employes have violated public trust. It said the program was designed to "strengthen the ethical performance of employes and to help them anticipate and react" to situations involving conflicts of interest or bribes.

Thieves Net $1353 In Burglaries

Sheriff's Authorities are continuing their probe of three break-ins occurring in the county during recent weeks.

Television, stereo equipment and jewelry, valued at $962, were taken from the mobile home residence of Roy Justice, Caravan Trailer Court, Route 1, Lockbourne, between Saturday and Tuesday.

Justice told Deputy J. Phillip Brown that the thieves entered a broken window which led to a bedroom.

Bruce and Beverly Diltz reported to Deputy Warren Straley that numerous clothing and toys were taken from their partially vacant home located on River Road, during the last six to eight weeks.

Mrs. Diltz told the Deputy that the house had been sold, however some items were left in the house waiting to be removed.

The items were valued at $270.

An air compressor, fuel and oil were taken by thieves from a storage shed owned by the Saltcreek Twp. Trustees, sometime between Saturday and Monday.

Trustee Fred DeLong told Deputy Warren Straley that the items were valued at $121.10.

Westfall Board Buys Equipment

Further action was taken by the Westfall Board of Education Monday night concerning the construction of the new middle school. The board agreed to two minor change orders for the new school involving the addition of electrical outlets in the sewing room and the changing of the finish on the shelving in the storage room.

The purchasing of other loose equipment was approved. The electrical appliances in the food lab will be purchased from Pettit's in Circleville and the sewing machines from the Singer Company in Chillicothe. Other equipment in the food lab was approved for purchase from the Nasco Company in Wisconsin. The total price of the three orders amounted to $4,416.

Approval was also given for the school calendar to be amended to include a parent-teacher conference day on Jan. 30.

Bruce Stevenson Jr. was appointed by the other board members to meet with the Pickaway County Board of Health to discuss the school nursing program. This meeting will be with representatives from all the school districts in the county.

In final action during the evening, the board accepted one tuition student and approved personal leave requests for three teachers.

Property Tax Distribution Set

INDIANAPOLIS — Marion, Lake and Allen counties are getting the lion's share of a $19 million distribution from the Property Tax Replacement Fund.

Gov. Otis Bowen announced the distribution Monday. It's the second 15 per cent advance on the November allotment.

Marion County gets nearly $3.6 million, Lake $2.7 million and Allen $1.11 million. No other county receives more than $1 million.

Police Arrest Youth Accused Of Armed Robbery Try

Circleville Police have arrested a 17-year-old juvenile allegedly involved in an armed robbery attempt Friday at midnight.

According to police, the youth has given them a statement concerning the incident, claiming it was a practical joke and not a robbery attempt.

The victim of the alleged robbery refused to prosecute and the juvenile was released.

Police have also arrested Jerry Keaton, 20, 1238 Turner Drive, who fled the police station while under arrest last week. Keaton has been charged with escape, unsafe vehicle, leaving the scene of an accident, and a stop sign violation.

Keaton, who has been the object of a city-wide search by police since his escape, turned himself in at the police department last night.

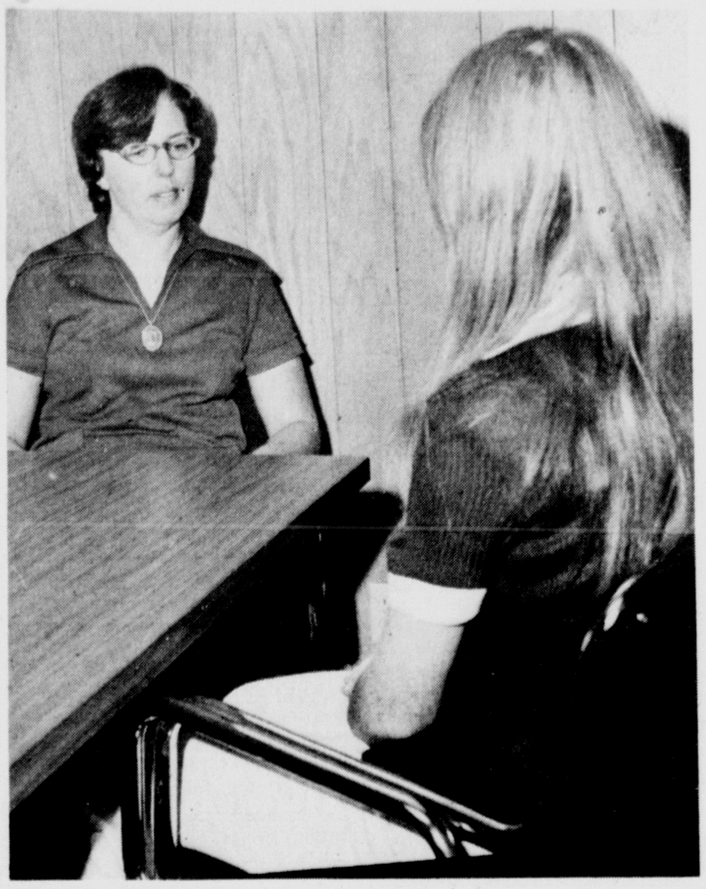
Volunteer Is Friend To Juvenile Offender



VOLUNTEER—Mrs. LeMoyne Van Vliet has a rap session with her probationer. The volunteer spends at least two hours a week with the probationer, whether just talking or participating in an outside activity.

Pickaway County Volunteers for Youth is a non-profit organization made up of a group of private citizens who work through the Pickaway County Juvenile Court to help young people on probation.

The organization was established in 1973 through the efforts of Edith Downing, who learned of the existence of over 2,000 similar programs across the nation at an AAUW conference in Chicago in February, 1973.

Judge Keith Leenhouts of Royal Oak Michigan, founder of the national organization known as Volunteers in Probation, spoke to a group of citizens at Pickaway Arms Restaurant in April of 1973 on the establishment of a volunteer program in Circleville.

By September, the Board of Trustees had been formed and four volunteers recruited. There is now a total of twenty volunteers, with twelve of these actively serving at the present time. Two are awaiting their second assignments and four new members will be assigned pending training. There are also two inactive volunteers who will request re-assignment when circumstances permit.

Volunteers are assigned on a one-to-one basis to juveniles on probation by Volunteer Coordinator Edith Downing working in conjunction with Juvenile Court Probation Officers. A minimum commitment of six months is required, during which time the volunteer agrees to spend at least two hours per week with his probationer.

Persons who wish to be volunteers must submit an application, with three references, to the Board. Once accepted, applicants attend a training session sponsored by the Juvenile Probation Council, Columbus. WFY is currently developing its own training program which should be established before the end of the year.

In-service training sessions are held each month to provide volunteers with helpful information and a chance to exchange ideas with one another.

The Board of Trustees also meets once a month to conduct the general business of the organization. In addition, they spend many hours attending committee meetings and promoting the organization by speaking before local service groups.

Volunteer programs work more effectively to reduce recidivism than traditional probation programs because they provide close interpersonal relationships with positive adult influences which, for the most part, youth in trouble have not experienced. In addition to this fact, the volunteer spends more than 30 times as many hours with the probationer as the regular Probation Officer.

The immediate goal of VFY is to set up an office which can serve as a central location for filing materials, answering telephone inquiries, and carrying out the general business of the organization. Funding is needed for this purpose, and for providing training and promotional materials.

The long-range goal is to hire a full-time coordinator so that the number of volunteers can grow to meet the needs of most of the troubled youth of Pickaway County. For each youth referred to a volunteer rather than being sent to the Ohio Youth Commission, the tax-payer realizes a savings of $25 per day.

Although most volunteer probation organizations are funded by the Federal government through LEAA, VFY is ineligible for such funding since one salary in the Juvenile Probation Dept. is provided through LEAA funds.

Cancer Society Board Seeking New Director

Topics for discussion at the Monday evening meeting of the board of Pickaway County Cancer Society included finding a replacement for resigning executive director, Georgia Walker, and adding new board members.

Hopefully a young person with fresh ideas to conduct the operation from a residence can be found to replace Mrs. Walker. A minimum of 20 hours a week is required and the work includes answering telephone calls, filling requests for cancer patients and keeping records. During the annual Cancer Crusade material will be picked up at the worker's home but all other space required would be for a desk, telephone and file cabinet.

P.J. Ranck, society president, said that board members usually are people who have been touched in some way by cancer and are dedicated to assist in irradicating the disease and until that time help in research which has progressed in many cases to halt the spread of cancer and alleviate the distress of those who cannot be cured.

Mrs. Walker said that 16 patients in the county are being supplied with medication, beds and necessary supplies at the present time. This number is low compared with the majority of counties in the state. Mrs. Walker said that patients either are able to supply their own needs or are unaware of the availability of some medications, beds and other equipment readily supplied by the society.

Tentative plans were made for a meeting where guests will be invited to acquaint them with the work of the society and a guest speaker will tell how the board contributes to the welfare of the community.

Reagan In State Thursday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Republican chairman doesn't regard former California Gov. Ronald Reagan's visit to the Dayton area Thursday a trip into the state "for politicking as such."

Chairman Kent B. McGough said he understands the conservative presidential prospect was invited by a local group, and that he thinks it would be "premature" for him to try to beat Ohio's GOP bushes for 1976 convention delegates.

Reagan was invited to stop in Oakwood, an affluent Dayton suburb, on a round of visits Thursday to several cities, the others outside Ohio. Reportedly, the Oakwood Republican Women's Club extended the invitation several months ago.

GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes and McGough, along with the party's state executive committee, said they were not asked to meet with him. They already have pledged to President Ford most of the resources in their command in his bid to become an elected president next year.

However, McGough said the Californian and any other potential candidate for the party's presidential nomination are welcome in Ohio. Reagan has not said officially whether he will run.

"I hope he (Reagan) comes into Ohio many times," said McGough, adding that he is "an excellent fundraiser."

Reagan, as in other key states, has scattered support among some party chairmen and conservative Republicans who dislike Vice President Nelson Rockefeller and fear that Ford at the moment is trying to make him acceptable as a running mate to the party's right wing.

Miami County Chairman Robert E. Netzley, a state representative is one who thinks "Ford will try to force him on us." Netzley said he will support Ford otherwise, but actually would like to see the ticket headed by Reagan.

The sometimes GOP maverick even said he could support Reagan and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, should they decide to team up on a third party ticket.

Reagan may have some support within the ranks of the feuding Ohio Federation of Republican Women. Its president, Louis Leggat of Willoughby, resigned recently, accusing state party leaders of trying to stack the women's organization with "Rockefeller liberals."

McGough denied the charge emphatically, calling the federation problems "an internal squabble. I don't know anything about it.'"

Taft And Solons Seek Train Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, and three Ohio congressmen have asked Amtrak Corp. to begin day train service to Canton, Crestline and Lima.

Reps. John M. Ashbrook, Tennyson Guyer and Ralph S. Regula, all Ohio Republicans, joined Taft in a letter to Amtrak president Paul Reistrup requesting the service.

Taft noted that he tried to get day train service established on the route last March but Roger Lewis, then-Amtrak president, said Amtrak did not have enough sufficient passenger cars.

The joint letter noted that Amtrak is receiving the first of 700 new cars.

"With the new Amcars arriving, there is a pool of additional equipment," the legislators said. "We strongly believe that one of the best possible uses for this equipment would be on a daylight run ..."

"We have too many trains that go through Ohio in the middle of the night, and we need daytime service," Taft said.

A Page Of Opinion

No More Mr. Nice Guy

With decontrol of oil prices and removal of the 60-cents-per-barrel fee on refined petroleum products, the nation enters a new phase in the big oil robbery.

Removal of the fee could drop prices slightly. End of controls would raise them even more, with a total change of about three cents per gallon in the oil companies' favor.

Three cents multiplied by millions of gallons is a lot of money. But apparently, this is not enough for some companies. They want more, more, more.

Symptomatic of this "no more Mr. Nice Guy" attitude is a report that the big oil companies are getting ready to oust the independant dealers and take over the stations.

Result: The money made by the jobbers and station dealers, about 12 cents per gallon, would be taken by the oil companies directly.

Although being mush-mouthed about it, there are no flat denials by the big money boys.

The nation's drivers may soon find a situation as described by James M. Patterson, a marketing professor at Indiana University, where the motorist will wind up pumping his own gas, getting no services, waiting in line, and still paying a higher profit to the oil firms.

We support strongly the plan being proposed by Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa and others to kick the energy barons out of gasoline retailing.

Indeed, the big oil companies are taking entirely too big a slice of all fields of energy, with loss of competition and chance of exorbitant profits.

We feel that if the various energy markets were broken apart, with no dominant companies, a better balance could be restored, with healthy results.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 23, the 266th day of 1975. There are 99 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 63 B-C, the first Roman emperor, Augustus Caesar, was born.

On this date—

In 1951, in the Korean War, U.N. forces captured "Hearbreak Ridge" from the Communists.

In 1952, Vice Presidential candidate Richard Nixon went on nationwide radio and television to refute charges of wrongdoing in his campaign financing.

In 1973, Former Argentine dictator Juan Peron was returned to power in Buenos Aires in a presidential election.

Ten years ago: The U.S. again called on the U.N. to bar Communist China's entry on the ground that it was an aggressor that sought to change the world order by force and violence.

Five years ago: Thailand proposed that the Soviet Union and Britain be brought into the Paris peace talks as a means of ending the Indochina War.

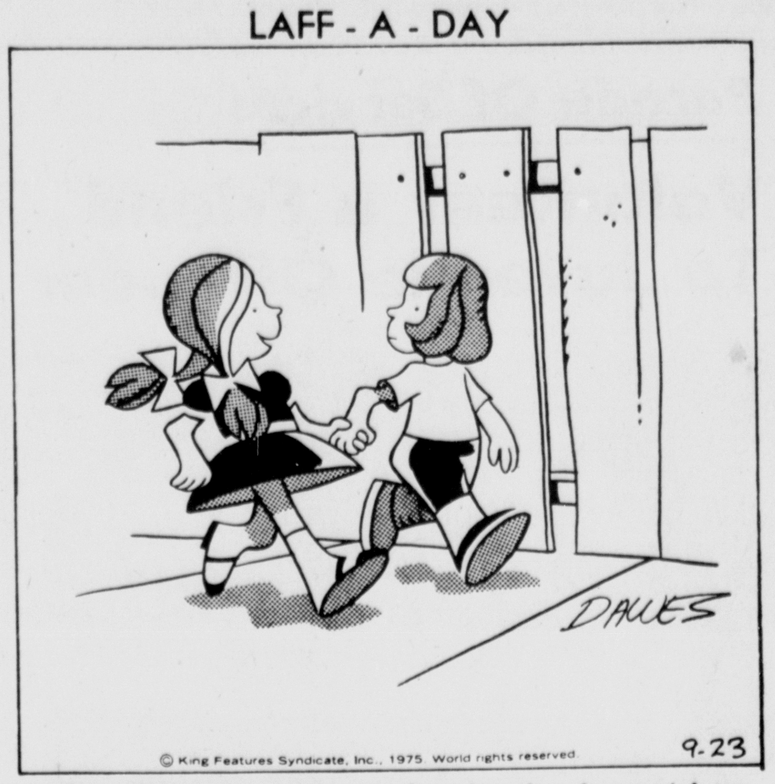
One year ago: Former President Richard Nixon checked into a Long Beach, California hospital for treatment of phlebitis.

Today's birthdays: Retired Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark is 76 years old. Singer and composer Ray Charles is 43.

Thought for today: God takes care of fools, drunks and the United States of America — Stephen Leacock, Canadian economist, 1869-1944.

Bicentennial footnote: Twohundred years ago today, Adam Stephen of Virginia reported that Indian tribes appeared to be divided and undecided on their stand in the American Revolution.

LAFF - A - DAY



"Now that we're going steady, what day do we pick up your allowance?"

A Military School

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — They don't make prep schools like St. John's Military Academy of Delafield, Wisc., any more. And somebody seems to have broken the mold which made headmasters like William I. West.

St. John's is a junior West Point, without a requirement of post-graduate military service. Bill West is a hard-nosed product of West Point who played on the great Army football team that starred Davis and Blanchard. He won a Silver Star in Korea, and decided after that war that the best way he could serve his country was to do what he could to bring a little discipline to the education of young men.

West was in New York recently, talking to the parents of possible recruits and raising some of the money which all private schools need these days. He had some things to say that one seldom hears and more when the subject of the education and training of the male American teenager comes up. His theme was a condemnation of the prevailing paternal philosophy of "I'm going to give my kid all the advantages and things I never got as a kid."

"That's dangerous," Bill said with his voice of authority. "Our boys at St. John's are not permitted to have luxuries such as cars. We grill them about marijuana, drinking, and even smoking. We're death on smoking, unless the boy is 18 and has parental permission. If caught, any younger boy is in trouble. He's under guard control, and does plenty of marching."

The first prized possession a plebe loses at St. John's is his long hair. Then he must take care of his own room, shine his own shoes, see to it that his uniform is pressed, his linen clean, and that he is never late for a class or an assignment. He has a mandatory study period each night, without the accompaniment of a rock 'n' roll radio program, TV or a stereo. Or rap talk. Bill took a visiting group of headmasters through the cadets' barracks one night during the study period and one exclaimed, "My God, it's quiet up here."

Bill snaps:

"Trouble with a lot of parents — well-meaning parents — these days is that in giving their young sons so much they deprive them inadvertently of character and integrity. They take away from them a sense of self-accomplishment. The father finds a way to give them a car, for example; the mother picks up after them, or hires somebody to do it. Not many parents say, 'Hey, buddy, before you go anywhere you're going to clean the snow off the driveway, or cut the grass, shovel the coal, feed the dog or the cows, and try walking to school and back again.'

"At St. John's, we challenge them," said Bill, who served under a general who had served under George Patton in World War II. "At the start of a new school year, I bring them to chapel, walk up and down the aisle, and tick off the way it's going to be. If there are any groans or flak, I simply say, in effect, 'That's it. If you don't think you're up to it, do us a favor and get out now. Pack.' My wife tells me from time to time that I'm too tough on them; that I should praise them more, pat them on the back. But I'm not made that way. I pat them on the back, sure, but not before they pass the last white line. I think the boys respect that."

"Some of them come to my office in their early days and tell me that they just can't take the discipline we enforce. I tell them 'Wait'll Dad's Day, middle of October. Then we'll see." It's the best day of each year. There's a whole new rapport between father and son. No more back-talk, no bellyaching, no pleading for money or this or that. They boys are proud of having weathered the first six weeks; the fathers are sometimes moved to tears of pride. Believe me. The boys stand up straight, on their own. They've learned that's the only way to do it, on their own. They don't have mummy and daddy running interference for them any more. And they don't want it that way any longer.

"I'm convinced that every American boy has spunk, heart, whatever you call it. And you don't have to dig down very far to find it. But in a lot of cases it's been damn near smothered. In our small way, we bring it to the surface because I'm convinced that a lot of our educators are overlooking the necessity of encouraging leadership on their campuses. They have backed off under the pressures of handfuls of students. In the case of our public high schools, the educators haven't gotten the support they deserve in courts when things get rough. I'm glad I'm part of secondary education. You still have a chance to develop leaders we'll be needing in government, industry, education and so forth ten or 20 years from now. College is a little late . . ."

St. John's has once — soft and pampered boys who now in the predawn measure their bedsheet to be sure it is folded back exactly 10 inches from the head of the bed; once-lackadaisical kids who fight or root for the Academy's teams with the passion of "togetherness." Each graduation class plants a tree on the campus with an appropriate plaque. Last year's class asked Bill a favor, Bill the old pro who had given him a hard time or two. They asked him if they could plant their tree in his front yard, and that was the first time they saw him shed a tear.

Louisville Busing Protest Planned

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Some 6,000 persons heard speakers at an antibusing rally call for a mass protest march Saturday morning in downtown Louisville.

The crowd Monday night included a number of children wearing shirts stencilled: "I am a truant and I'm proud of it."

A spokesman for Concerned Parents, Inc., sponsor of the rally and the planned march, said the parade permit for Saturday allows for up to 20,000 participants.

Sue Connor, president of Concerned Parents, told the group: "When Concerned Parents marches, she'll be so big and so huge that her footsteps will be heard all over the nation."

In fact, Mrs. Connor said, of busing in Jefferson County has not been stopped by January, her group will try to organize a national march on Washington to protest court-ordered busing for school desegregation.

Speakers at the rally called on busing foes to vote supporters of busing out of office, work for impeachment of judges who have ordered busing plans and support candidates opposed to busing.

Jefferson Criminal Court Judge S. Rush Nicholson appeared at the rally. He said he would limit his remarks, but promised, "I am going to enforce the Constitution of the United States—and that's enough."

Larry Higgins, a former commonwealth's attorney seeking a seat on the Criminal Court bench, said, "If I become a criminal court judge, every one of you will have a friend in the courthouse."

Nicholson and Higgins both distributed campaign literature after their brief speeches.

Earlier Monday, Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenbach, acting as Quarterly Court Judge for the first time in nearly six years in office, dismissed charges against 93 persons accused of violating a Sept. 6-10 ban on demonstrations.

Japanese Ships Aren't Cheaper

NEW YORK (AP) — Ships "Made in Japan" are no longer launched with bargain basement price tags, reports The Compass, a publication of MOAC, marine insurance underwriter.

"In the past, Japanese ships were being offered at 10 per cent or more below prices quoted by European shipyards," The Compass notes. This provided a major saving on an oiltanker which might cost $20 to $30 million and helps to explain the past popularity of Japan's ship exports.

But the costs of marine equipment and materials have gone up 30 to 40 per cent in Japan in the last two years.

"Japanese industry officials now admit that the rising prices have put Japanese and European ships on a price par," says The Compass.

Allen County, Ohio, is named for Ethan Allen, revolutionary hero.

Gasoline Mileage Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fuel economy performance of 1976 automobiles improved an average of 12.8 per cent over last year's models, the government said today.

In the latest testing by the Environmental Protection Agency, top mileage for simulated city driving was recorded by the Chevrolet Chevette with a 98-cubic inch engine and manual transmission at 30 miles a gallon.

In simulated highway driving, the best performance was 41 miles per gallon by the Datsun B-210, with an 85-cubic inch engine and manual transmission.

This year, the EPA added a new ranking which takes into account an estimate that the average motorist does 55 per cent of his driving under city conditions and 45 per cent under highway conditions.

In this combined city-highway driving, the EPA calculated the best mileage was 33 miles per gallon, delivered by three cars: the Chevrolet Chevette, the Datsun B-210 and the Subaru with an 83-cubic engine and manual transmission.

The EPA said 1976 cars, industry-wide, averaged 17.6 miles per gallon, 12.8 per cent better than the average of 15.6 miles per gallon in 1975 models and a 26.6 per cent improve in two years over the 13.9 miles per gallon averaged by 1974 cars.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I worry because my 9-year-old son keeps getting attacks of swollen glands in the neck. The thought that terrifies me is that this might be an early warning of leukemia, or trouble like that.

Mrs. H. B., Ohio

Dear Mrs. B.:

Physicians are aware of the concern that mothers have about glands in the neck.

Anxiety about it is rampant, mostly because the real meaning of glands is not understood.

There are, perhaps, a thousand glands (lymph nodes), in the entire body. These vary in size, from tiny, barely perceptible ones to grape size.

Just as there is a circulatory system that carries blood through the arteries and veins, so is there an important lifesaving lymph drainage system that circulates everywhere.

Lymph glands act as filters and collect bacteria, waste products and even foreign particles that have entered the lymph stream.

Swelling of the glands of the neck, for example, may be due to tonsilitis or infections of the scalp. Glands in the groin may be enlarged because they have trapped infection somewhere in the feet or the legs.

Swelling under the armpit may reflect protection against infection of the hand or the arm.

Glands are the protective agents located at strategic points in the body to guard against the spread of infection.

There is no reason for you to believe that leukemia, Hodgkin's disease, tuberculosis or other serious conditions are necessarily indicated by the swelling.

A general examination and a study of the blood can immediately put your mind at ease, It is pointless to be in fear of a nonexisting condition. Your anxiety, before long, will be transmitted to your son. Then the entire family pays a penalty for unnecessary fear.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:

This letter is an attempt to explain why the issues to prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages will not appear on the ballot in November for the voters of precincts 1-D and 2-B.

As you recall, several months ago petitions were circulated to try to stop the issuance of C-1 and C-2 permits to Circle G Corp. (Dailey's Market). Although more than 500 signatures were obtained in objection to the permits being issued, along with a letter from the school board to the Ohio Liquor Control Board, the permits were granted to Circle G Corp.

Since the residents of the area were not satisfied with this decision, petitions were circulated by several men from the area — none of whom is a member or directly connected with the local Church of God which is within 400 feet of Circle G Corp. These men from precincts 1-D and 2-B worked many, many hours obtaining sufficient valid registered voter signatures.

The petitions were completed according to the advice of an attorney. When the petitions were returned to the Board of Elections, as far as they knew, the issues would appear on the November election ballot.

When the president of Circle G Corp., Richard Gerhardt, inspected the petitions as any member of the public could have, he objected to the petitions on a technicality — namely, the petitions listed only precinct 1-D or 2-B (whichever precinct it happened to be) rather than precincts 1-D and 2-B. The Board of Elections contacted the Secretary of State who agreed the petitions should have specified both precincts 1-D and 2-B.

To have such an issue put on the ballot, a certain per cent of signatures of registered voters from two precincts must be obtained according to law. It is quite likely every person who signed the petitions knew two precincts were involved. The men who circulated the petitions explained this to the signers in many cases I know (probably in every case).

It is hard to understand how all the hours of hard work by so many people can be disregarded completely because one person opposed a technicality which even the election board was not aware of.

It is my firm belief that the voter should have the opportunity to vote against that which he was not permitted to vote for but was granted without his approval. Thank you.

Dear Editor:

The Ohio dove hunting season has created a lot of controversy the past few weeks. Dove hunting has long been a world wide recognized sport. Virgil the Roman poet of 70 BC to 19 BC wrote of shooting doves, with cross-bow as sport.

As early as 1286 AD crossbow clubs were formed in England to shoot a bird like target known as a Popinjay. Popinjay shooting was designed to sharpen one's skill in live bird shooting, namely doves, rooks, and pigeons. Leonardo di Vinci 1442 to 1519 AD was an accomplished rifleman, and often shot doves in flight as sport. Many 17th century American, and European homes had large dovecotes, where doves could be taken from the roost for food.

Even after being hunted in so many parts of the world for so many years, the dove must feel lucky that man only hunts him, and never domesticated him like the harmless chicken.

Sincerely,
PATRICK D. CHERRY

Sinai Accord Only Step: Kissinger

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today the Sinai accord is only a first step toward a Mideast settlement and that he has made it clear he is prepared to promote an agreement between Syria and Israel.

Declaring "opportunities must be seized or they will disappear," Kissinger told the U.N. General Assembly in a speech that the United States is ready to explore alternatives to a Geneva peace conference in order to push ahead on an Arab-Israeli accord.

President Ford's statement that he will not accept stalemate and stagnation in the Middle East "was true before the Sinai agreement was signed. It remains true today," Kissinger said.

His remarks were seen as conciliatory toward the Soviet Union and militant Arabs and their supporters who want the United States to press Israel for withdrawals on the fronts with Syria and Jordan now that Israel has pulled back in Sinai in the agreement this month with Egypt.

Over the coming weeks he said he will consult "with all concerned" regarding the reopening of the Geneva conference.

Although he said the United States would not attempt to "exclude any country," he did not make it clear whether the United States would back Israel in trying to exclude the Palestine Liberation Organization, which has unanimous Arab support as the sole representative of the Palestinians on the west bank of the Jordan River.

Chillicothe Church Is Site For Wolfe-Shoemaker Rites

MRS. KEVIN L. SHOEMAKER

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Barbara Ann Wolf and Kevin Lee Shoemaker 1:30 p.m., Sept. 6, at St. Peters Catholic Church in Chillicothe.

The Rev. David Funk and the Rev. Earl Ross officiated the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mrs. Charles Michael Wolf, Chillicothe, and the late Mr. Wolf, and the son of State Representative and Mrs. Myrl H. Shoemaker, Bourneville.

The main altar was enhanced with arrangements of white gladioli and carnations. The chancel candelabra were accented with white carnations and pompons. Aisle candelabra were intertwined with variegated California ivy.

Wedding music was provided by Ginny Sampson, organist, and Martha Wenzel, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Oren Schmieder, the bride's white a la mode A-line gown was designed with an English net empire bodice with high neckline and long sleeves forming points at the hands. The deep hem had a satin insert. The gown and chapel length train were enhanced with an overlay of reappliqued alencon lace touched with pearls and crystal iridescents. A camelot cap of embroidered alencon lace accented with pearls and crystal iridescents, secured her lace edged chapel length veil with bouffant blusher. She carried a chapel bouquet of purple violets, pink miniature carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Valerie Jean Wolf, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Betsy Marie Wolf, the bride's sister, Misses Brenda Sue and Debra Lou Shoemaker, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Barbara Marie Fredley, college roommate of the bride.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of white pique in A-line styling with short sleeved bodices detailed by embroidered multi-colored flowers and spring green grosgrain sashes. The Edwardian bouquets were in a potpouri of summer flowers in soft colors.

The bride's mother wore an A-line champagne colored knit floor length gown. The mother of the bridegroom chose a rose A-line floor length gown.

Keith Shoemaker performed the duties of best man for his brother. Ushers were his brothers, Ronald, Michael and Mick Shoemaker, and Daniel Schmieder, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed at the Holiday Inn. Music was provided by Sonny Harris Combo featuring Michele Harris, vocalist. Hostesses were Mrs. Oren Schmieder and Miss Dolores Wolf, aunts of the bride, Mrs. John McClure, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Alice Wright.

Mrs. Shoemaker a 1971 graduate of Bishop Flaget High School, is a fourth-year marketing student at the University of Cincinnati. She has been employed by Chillicothe Municipal Court.

Mr. Shoemaker, a 1972 graduate of Paint Valley High School, is a senior political science major at the University of Cincinnati. He has been associated with the Twin Construction Company.

Upon their return Sept. 21 from a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Richmond and Virgina Beach, Va., Mr. Shoemaker and his bride will be at home at 2935 Marshall Ave., Apt. 25, Cincinnati.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Memorial Service Conducted At Pythian Sister Meeting

A memorial service for deceased members was conducted during the Thursday evening meeting of Majors Temple 516 Pythian Sisters in the K of P Temple.

Mrs. Robert Smallwood, most excellent chief, presided over the business meeting and extended a welcome to members. Mrs. Della Wertman, Mrs. Marvin Dumm, Mrs. Laura Rector and Mrs. Lloyd Fisher reported on altruistic work completed.

Announcement was made that the District 2 Past Chief's Club will meet 6:30 p.m., Sept. 29, at the Harrisburg K of P Temple for a carry-in dinner with members of Harrisburg Temple as hostesses.

An invitation was extended to Majors Temple from Sterling Temple 536 to be guests for Friendship Night at the K of P Temple in Mt. Sterling at 8 p.m., Oct. 13.

The memorial service and draping of the charter for 30 days was in memory of Mrs. Marcella Allebach, past grand chief and administrator of the Pythian Home at Medina, and a member of Jewel Temple, St. Paris who died Sept. 3, and Mrs. Edgar Carmean, a sister and past chief of Majors Temple who died Sept. 12. Mrs. Della Wertman, musician, played a hymn, a poem was read by Mrs. W. E. Reichelderfer, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Clifford Vance. Also participating in the service were Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Charles Griffith.

Mrs. Gerald Winfough, representative to Grand Temple, gave a detailed report of the Grand Temple Session held recently in Dayton. She said that Mrs. John Reed, a past chief and member of Cypress Temple in Stoutsville, will serve as the District Deputy Grand Chief of District 2 for the coming year. Others attending the session were Mrs. Robert Burton, atlernate representative, Mrs. Laura Rector, Miss Katherine Mead, Miss Elma Rains, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woodward, Mack Wise, and Mr. and Mrs. Reichelderfer.

The next meeting will be Oct. 2. Mrs. Smallwood announced the refreshment committee as Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, and Mr. and Mrs. William Currence.

At the close of the meeting, during the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Milton Griest, Mrs. Lawrence Hoover and Mrs. Garold Crites.

FULL TEXT OF AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE GENERAL ELECTION, NOVEMBER 4, 1975, WITH ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR AND ARGUMENTS IN OPPOSITION TO EACH.

ISSUE 2
AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION
Proposed by Initiative Petition
Text of the Proposed
Constitutional Amendment

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Ohio: ARTICLE XII, Section 13.

It is hereby declared to be a proper public purpose and the public policy of this state to encourage and assist in the construction of new industrial plants, the utilization of existing unused industrial plants, the replacement, modernization and addition of capital equipment in existing industrial plants, the retention of such plans in the state, and the revitalization of cities, and it is hereby determined that the operation of this section and laws enacted and regulations adopted pursuant to this section will directly and indirectly and encourage and assist the aforesaid purposes and create or preserve jobs, enhance employment opportunities, alleviate unemployment and improve the economic welfare, health and safety of the people of the state.

As used in this section "new industrial plant or plants" means: (A) new buildings, structures or facilities, and new expansions of or additions to existing buildings, structures or facilities which are used in manufacturing, fabricating, assembling, refining, converting or processing goods, products or materials, whether or not further manufacture, fabrication, assembly, refining conversion or processing is required before use or consumption, or are used as terminal facilities for shipment of goods, products or materials other than storage for hire, the construction of which commenced after February 5, 1975, and prior to January 1, 1981; or (B) existing buildings, structures or facilities which were substantially unused for any purpose stated in clause (A) of this paragraph for a period of at least two years prior to February 5, 1975, and in which operations for one or more of such purposes are commenced thereafter and prior to January 1, 1981; and (C) the operation of such new industrial plant or plants creates additional jobs within the state.

As used in this section "existing industrial plant or plants" means buildings, structures or facilities which are used for one or more of the purposes stated in clause (A) of the preceding paragraph but which do not qualify as new industrial plants under the preceding paragraph. Laws shall be passed to provide for treating a new industrial plant as an existing industrial plant under this section after termination of the tax exemptions and exclusions applicable to it as a new industrial plant.

As used in this section "area of critical need" means one or more areas within a municipal corporation determined by the board herein created to have critical need for new industrial plant development to create jobs or revitalize such area. Such determinations of the board shall be based upon relevant criteria including one or more of the following: the level of unemployment, the concentration of low and moderate income persons and families and those receiving public assistance in, or within reasonable and economic commuting distance from, the area, the degree of physical deterioration or functional obsolescence of buildings and structures or the need for redevelopment in the area.

With respect to each new industrial plant there shall be exempted and excluded for the period of exemption and exclusion: from the base or measure of corporate franchise taxes imposed by the state, the income and the value of capital, surplus, undivided profits and reserves, net worth, or any other base or measure for such taxes, of the business entity operating such new industrial plant allocable, apportionable or attributable to this state to the extent such are allocable, apportionable or attributable to such new industrial plant; from income taxes imposed by the state, the income of the new industrial plant; from all ad valorem property taxes, the tangible personal property which is used or held for use at such plant or produced at such plant while held by the operator of such plant; and one-half the assessed value of the improvements on land comprising a new industrial plant if located within an area of critical need. The exemption of tangible personal property from ad valorem taxes shall not be applicable to so much of the assessed value of such tangible personal property as equals the assessed value for the 1975 tax year of any tangible personal property which was located at or comprised part of such buildings, structures and facilities and was required to be listed and assessed for ad valorem taxes for the 1975 tax year. The exemption of improvements on land from ad valorem taxes shall not be applicable to so much of the assessed value of such improvements comprising a new industrial plant as equals the assessed value of improvements on land for the 1975 tax year.

The applicable period of exemption and exclusion shall begin with the tax year next following commencement of operations of the new industrial plant and: (A) with respect to such new industrial plants located within an area of critical need shall be for a period of thirty years; (B) with respect to new industrial plants located outside an area of critical need shall be for a period of fifteen years. Nothing in this section affects laws, provisions of charters of municipal corporations, ordinances, resolutions, or regulations pertaining to building, zoning or land use restrictions, conditions or requirements presently in effect or hereafter adopted.

If industrial operations at a new industrial plant are substantially suspended or terminated and are not resumed or recommenced within one year from the date of such suspension or termination of operations, the tax exemptions and exclusions previously granted with respect to such new industrial plant pursuant to this section shall terminate upon expiration of such one year period. In such event, the tax exemptions and exclusions so terminated may, upon application to the board herein created be reinstated, subject to the same conditions, by the board for the remainder of the original applicable period of exemption and exclusion for such new industrial plant if substantial industrial operations are resumed or recommenced therein. Laws shall be passed to provide, in the event of such termination or reinstatement of such tax exemptions and exclusions, for the proration thereof for that portion of the tax year in which such termination or reinstatement occurs.

Laws shall be passed providing for the transfer, continuation and reinstatement of tax exemptions and exclusions with respect to new industrial plants granted pursuant to this section in the event of a sale, lease or other transfer of such plant from one business entity to another business entity but the original applicable period of exemption and exclusions shall not be extended thereby.

To the extent that the true value of new capital equipment of a taxpayer placed in or at an existing industrial plant and required to be listed and assessed for ad valorem property taxes for the first time for the 1975 tax year or for the first time in any tax year thereafter in any taxing district of the state, together with the true value of all other capital equipment of the same taxpayer listed and assessed for such taxes in such year in such district, exceeds the true value of all capital equipment of such taxpayer listed and assessed for such taxes in such district for the then preceding tax year, the taxpayer shall be entitled to have such new capital equipment, but only to the extent it represents such increase, listed and assessed in such first tax year and each tax year thereafter at a tax value which is one-half the tax value at which such new capital equipment otherwise would be listed and assessed for ad valorem taxes for each such tax year, such reduced rate of assessment being herein called the capital incentive rate. Provided, however, if the true value of all capital equipment, including all new capital equipment, of the taxpayer throughout the state has not increased for the then current tax year over the true value of all capital equipment of the taxpayer throughout the state for the then preceding tax year, then the taxpayer shall not be entitled to have the capital incentive rate applied in the current tax year or any subsequent tax year to any new capital equipment first required to be listed and assessed in any taxing district in such current year. Provided, further, if the net increase of the true value of all capital equipment of the taxpayer throughout the state over the preceding tax year is less than the sum of the increases over the preceding tax year in all taxing districts in which such increases occurred, the amount of the true value of such new capital equipment first required to be listed and assessed for the current tax year in each taxing district eligible for the capital incentive rate in the current tax year and each subsequent tax year shall be only that portion thereof as results from multiplying the amount of increase in such district by a fraction the numerator of which is such net increase throughout the state and the denominator of which is the sum of the increases in the taxing districts in which such increases occurred. For purposes of the franchise tax levied by the state for the tax year 1978 and each tax year thereafter, an amount equal to the tax value as determined above of new capital equipment which is entitled to be listed and assessed at the capital incentive rate shall not be considered an asset of a taxpayer for purposes of determining the value of its issued and outstanding shares of stock or for purposes of determining the numerator and denominator of any property factor used in allocating or apportioning to this state income or the value of capital, surplus, undivided profits and reserves or net worth.

For purposes of the preceding paragraph "capital equipment" means all tangible personal property, other than inventory, used in or at an existing industrial plan, and "new capital equipment" means capital equipment, not previously used, acquired by the taxpayer after May 15, 1975; "taxpayer" means the entity which used the capital equipment in or at an existing industrial plant; and "true value" means the true value as determined by or pursuant to law for ad valorem tax purposes.

Laws shall be passed and regulations adopted hereunder to define and describe further new industrial plants, existing industrial plants, areas of critical need, commencement of construction, commencement of operations, income of the new industrial plant, and provide other definitions, make other provisions and establish procedures necessary for the purposes of this section.

There is hereby created, as an agency of the state, a board to be known as the Ohio Industrial Incentives Board, to consist of nine members, including a chairman, as follows: seven members, including the chairman, no more than four of whom shall be members of the same political party, shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, and two members, who may but need not be members of the general assembly and each of whom shall be a member of a different political party than the other, shall be appointed by the general assembly. Three members of the board first appointed shall continue in office for terms first expiring on January 1, 1979, three members of the board first appointed shall continue in office for terms first expiring on January 1, 1982, and three members of the board first appointed shall continue in office for terms first expiring on January 1, 1985. The term of each member first appointed shall be designated by the governor at the time of appointment. The successor of each such member shall be appointed for a term of nine years, except that any person appointed to fill a vacancy shall be appointed to serve only for the unexpired term. A member of the board shall be eligible for reappointment. The compensation of the chairman and other members of the board shall be determined as provided by law. The general assembly shall appropriate moneys to provide for the cost and expenses of the board.

The board may act by the affirmative vote of five members regardless of whether all members of the board have been appointed and regardless of whether vacancies exist on the board. Prior to the enactment of laws pursuant to this section, the board may adopt and amend regulations pertaining to tax exemptions and exclusions for new industrial plants, which regulations, when filed with the secretary of state and until superseded by law shall have the same force as law and the board may grant tax exemptions and exclusions under such regulations. No law enacted or regulation adopted pursuant to this section shall alter or affect tax exemptions and exclusions granted by the board prior to the effective date of such law or regulation. Tax exemptions and exclusions for new industrial plants under this section may be granted only by the affirmative vote of at least five members of the board.

The tax exemptions, exclusions and limitations provided for by this section are in addition to any other tax exemptions, exclusions and limitations provided for by or pursuant to this constitution or law.

Nothing authorized by this section shall be deemed to be prohibited by any other provision of this constitution. The classifications provided for in this section, and pursuant to laws enacted and regulations adopted under and consistent with this section are hereby determined to be reasonable and necessary to achieve the vital public purposes of this section. Laws enacted pursuant to this section shall not be subject to referendum and, unless otherwise provided therein, shall go into immediate effect.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF
PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Businesses which provided thousands of jobs for Ohioans in the past have been driven away from Ohio by high business taxes. Ohio now ranks fourth in the nation in taxes on industry. Unless we reverse that trend, more jobs will be lost as industry moves out.

This proposed amendment, if approved by the people, will say to industry, "We want you here in Ohio. We want jobs for our people."

But this proposal goes much farther. It is a common sense approach to bringing jobs to depressed areas such as inner cities and poor rural areas.

Here's how it works:

1. Manufacturing industries bringing new jobs into Ohio will be granted a 15-year moratorium on the state corporate franchise tax and the state tangible personal property tax.

2. Manufacturing industries bringing new jobs into depressed areas will receive stronger incentives. They also will be granted a moratorium on the tangible personal property and franchise taxes. In addition, they will be able to exempt half the improved value of their real estate from taxation. And in depressed areas, these incentives will run for 30 years instead of 15 years.

Other programs have failed. It is time to try jobs. Some existing Ohio manufacturing industries need desperately to modernize in order to keep working people on the job. To encourage them, the amendment will allow them to exempt half the increase in value of their machinery each year from the tangible personal property tax and the corporate franchise tax.

Local government will lose no money as a result of this amendment. In fact, with more people working instead of being on welfare and unemployment compensation, the tax base in Ohio for schools and other government functions will be stronger than ever.

This approach is nothing new. It is the same as the method being used by southern states as they systematically rob Ohio of industry and jobs. It is time for Ohio to stop this exodus of industry. This amendment will accomplish that goal.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT
VOTE NO ON ISSUE 2

Passage of Issue 2 will RAISE YOUR TAXES.

ISSUE 2 WILL RAISE YOUR PROPERTY TAXES.

The Issue proposes to exclude any new, expanding or modernizing manufacturing industry from all ad valorem property taxes, and one half of all real property taxes for 30 years in "critical areas" and 15 years otherwise. These same industries will require significant increases in city services and schools which your property taxes support. While big business pays lower taxes, who pays for higher property taxes? YOU DO!

ISSUE 2 WILL RAISE YOUR STATE INCOME TAX.

The Issue proposes to exclude these same industries from state corporate franchise taxes on income, capital, surplus, undivided profiting reserves, and net worth attributable to the new facility. As costs for state services increase, these industries will be excluded from paying their fair share. When industry quits paying, who makes up the lost revenues? YOU DO!

ISSUE 2 CANNOT GUARANTEE NEW JOBS.

Ohio has the second largest energy curtailment in the nation. In view of this energy crisis there is little chance of new industry locating in Ohio as a RESULT of these incentives.

The greater danger is for existing industries to use these tax incentives to expand or modernize their facilities, and thereby quality to be excused from taxes.

Who pays to make up for this loss in existing property and income tax revenues? YOU DO!

ISSUE 2 WILL RAISE SCHOOL TAXES.

Issue 2 will require you to carry industry's share of the tax burden in support of local schools. It will cost you, not just once, but every time a school issue is on the ballot over the next 30 years. Who pays? YOU DO!

Issues 2 costs YOU.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION
Proposed by Initiative Petition
Text of the Proposed
Constitutional Amendment

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Ohio: ARTICLE VIII, Section 2k.

To create and preserve jobs, revitalize urban centers of the state, accelerate completion of the interstate highway system in the state and the development, restoration, and upgrading of highway and other transportation facilities, provide assistance for highway and transportation purposes, and in other respects improve the economic welfare, safety, and general welfare of the people of the state, all of which are declared to be vital public purposes of the state, it is hereby determined and declared that the program provided for in and pursuant to this section is urgently needed.

In addition to the authorization otherwise contained in Article VIII of this Constitution, bonds and notes of the state may be issued in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed one billion seven hundred and fifty million dollars to provide funds for costs of capital improvements for highways, roads, streets, and bridges, including those on the state highway system and urban extensions thereof, those within or leading to parks or recreational areas, and those within or leading to municipal corporations, research and development with respect to highway transportation buildings, structures, or facilities and equipment related or incidental to the foregoing, and the acquisition of real estate and interests in real estate for such capital improvements (herein called "highway purposes"), and for urban public transportation, interurban rail passenger transportation between major urban centers, airports and aviation safety, bikeways, buildings, structures, or facilities and equipment related to or incidental to the foregoing, and the acquisition of real estate and interests in real estate for such capital improvements (herein called "transportation purposes"). Such costs of capital improvements may further include any costs for the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, equipping, including highway and transportation safety equipment and devises, or otherwise improving, and furnishing of, such capital improvements, participation with, or grants to, or reimbursement of, municipal corporations, counties, townships, states or other governmental or political subdivisions, state and local public authorities, districts, agencies, or institutions, the federal government, and public or private nonprofit corporations, organizations, or institutions in or for costs of such capital improvements, and participation with, or grants or loans to, or reimbursement of, private for profit corporations, organizations, or institutions in or for costs of such capital improvements for urban public transportation and for interurban rail passenger transportation between major urban centers.

The proceeds from the sale of such bonds and notes, except accrued interest, premium, and proceeds to refund outstanding bonds or notes, shall be paid into the state treasury, as hereinafter provided, to the credit of a fund designated highway improvement fund or to the credit of a fund designated transportation improvement fund to be applied by direct payment, repayment, or grant or loans to costs or capital improvements pursuant to laws providing for the appropriation of money from such improvement funds.

Not more than one hundred fifty-five million dollars of the aggregate proceeds from the sale of such bonds and notes shall be paid to the transportation improvement fund for costs of capital improvements for transportation purposes and the balance of such proceeds, except as aforesaid, shall be paid to the highway improvement fund for costs of capital improvements for highway purposes. From the transportation improvement fund not more than eighty-five million dollars may be appropriated for urban public transportation, not more than fifty-five million dollars may be appropriated for interurban rail passenger transportation between major urban centers, not more than ten million dollars may be appropriated for airports and aviation safety, and not more than five million dollars may be appropriated for bikeways. From the highway improvement fund not more or less than four hundred million dollars shall be appropriated to counties, municipal corporations, and townships for highway purposes as follows: to each county, municipal corporation, and township in the state (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as "participating subdivisions") a portion of such four hundred million dollars which portion for each participating subdivision shall be the product resulting from multiplying four hundred million dollars by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount distributed to each participating subdivision under section 4501.04 of the Revised Code for the twelve-month period ending June 30, 1974, and the denominator of which is the total amount distributed to all participating subdivisions under such section for the same period. In addition, not more than $100,000,000 may be appropriated from the highway improvement fund to municipal corporations for capital improvements of streets, including without limitation resurfacing and street lighting, in inner city and neighborhood areas having a high incidence of unemployment, low income families, and deteriorating housing. The balance of the moneys in the highway improvement fund shall be appropriated for highway purposes to the department of transportation.

No moneys raised under this section shall be expended for the construction, rehabilitation, alteration, conversion, extension, demolition, or repair of buildings, structures, highways, roads, streets, bridges, or facilities or other changes or improvements to real property, including facilities providing utility services, unless there is in effect and applicable to such project, a law, regulation, rule, executive order, or contract providing for affirmative action intended to ensure that applicants are employed, and that employees are treated during employment, in such work on the project without regard to their race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry or sex.

Laws, or the portions thereof, authorizing the issuance of such bonds or notes or appropriating such proceeds shall go into effect immediately, or at such other time therein provided, and shall not be subject to referendum. Any moneys to be appropriated from the respective improvement funds may be used in connection with other moneys from any other source. The bonds and notes, the application of the proceeds thereof, and provisions for and the payment thereof authorized by this section are not subject to any requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any section of Article VIII, or sections 5, 6 and 11 of Article XII of this Constitution.

The bonds and notes issued under authority of this section are general obligations of the state and the full faith, credit, revenue and taxing power of the state are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest and premium thereon.

The bonds and notes shall be issued and sold by the commissioners of the sinking fund (herein called the "commissioners") from time to time in amounts authorized by law, subject to the limitations of this section. If bonds or notes are issued under this section to retire bonds or notes previously issued under this section, such new bonds or notes shall not be counted against the aggregate limit of bonds and notes which may be issued under this section to the extent that the principal amount thereof does not exceed the principal amount of the bonds or notes to be retired thereby. Each issue of bonds shall mature in not more than thirty years from date of issuance. No bond or note shall mature after December 31, 2009. Each issue of notes shall mature in not more than five years from date of issuance, or from the date of issuance of the original debt represented thereby if such notes are issued for the refunding of notes previously issued. The bonds and notes shall be sold at competitive sale in the manner determined by the commissioners. The bonds and notes shall bear such terms consistent with this section, as the commissioners determine in a resolution or resolutions for their authorization and sale. Any of the powers and duties of the commissioners under this paragraph may be delegated by each commissioner to an officer or employee of such commissioners' office designated by such commissioner in a written designation filed with the secretary of state.

There is hereby established in the state treasury a fund designated highway bond retirement fund into which shall be paid all accrued interest and premium received upon the sale of such bonds and notes for highway purposes. All income and profit received from investment of moneys in the highway improvement fund and the highway bond retirement fund, to be made or caused to be made by the treasurer of state pursuant to law, shall be paid into the highway bond retirement fund. There is also hereby established in the state treasury a fund designated transportation bond retirement fund into which shall be paid all accrued interest and premium received upon the sale of such bonds and notes for transportation purposes. All income and profit received from investments of moneys in the transportation improvement fund and the transportation bond retirement fund, to be made or caused to be made by the treasurer of state pursuant to law, shall be paid into the transportation bond retirement fund.

On or before the first day of July in each calendar year, the director of budget and management, shall certify to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state the total amount of funds the director of budget and management determines is necessary to provide, together with any moneys in the highway bond retirement fund available for such purpose, for the payment in the ensuing calendar year of principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes for highway purposes, and charges for such payments, other than the amounts funded or to be funded with the proceeds of bonds or notes. Such certification may be supplemented or adjusted by additional certifications provided to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state by the director of budget and management. The auditor of state and the treasurer of state shall take such actions as are necessary to transfer first from the moneys referred to in section 5a of Article XII of this Constitution (herein called "highway user receipts") then in the state treasury and not required by law to be used for the payment of principal of and interest and premium on bonds or other obligations issued or to be issued under sections 2g or 2i of Article VIII of this Constitution and then, if such moneys are insufficient from the state general revenue fund to the highway bond retirement fund the amounts so certified, as supplemented or adjusted, at the time and in the amounts required for such purpose, without necessity for appropriation; provided that if and to the extent that any part of the amount required has been appropriated from any other funds, the auditor and treasurer shall transfer from such other funds the amount so appropriated and reduce accordingly the amount to be transferred from the highway user receipts or the state general revenue fund. The highway bond retirement fund shall be paid out by the treasurer of state to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes for highway purposes, as the same are due and payable, without necessity for appropriation.

On or before the first day of July in each calendar year, the director of budget and management, shall certify to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state the total amount of funds the director of budget and management determines is necessary to provide, together with any moneys in the transportation bond retirement fund available for such purpose, for the payment in the ensuing calendar year of principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes for transportation purposes, and charges for such payments, other than the amounts funded or to be funded with the proceeds of bonds or notes. Such certification may be supplemented or adjusted by additional certifications provided to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state shall take such actions as are necessary to transfer from the state general revenue fund to the transportation bond retirement fund the amounts so certified, as supplemented or adjusted, at the time and in the amounts required for such purposes, without necessity for appropriation; provided that if and to the extent that any part of the amount required has been appropriated from any other funds, the auditor and treasurer shall transfer from such other funds the amount so appropriated and reduce accordingly the amount to be transferred from the state general revenue fund. The transportation bond retirement fund shall be paid out by the treasurer of state to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes for transportation purposes, and charges for such payments, as the same are due and payable, without necessity for appropriation. The references in this and the preceding paragraph to the director of budget and management shall be deemed to include the officer who pursuant to law succeeds to his duties.

To assure that the revenues of the state will at all times be adequate to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes authorized by this section, and charges for such payments, without impairment of other programs of the state, there is hereby levied beginning on April 1, 1976, on all dealers in motor vehicle fuel, upon the use, distribution, or sale within the state by them of motor vehicle fuel, an excise tax at the rate of nine-tenths of one cent per gallon so used, distributed, or sold. Such excise tax shall be in addition to all other state excise taxes levied from time to time with respect to motor vehicle fuel, shall be imposed on the same subjects, with the same exclusions and exemptions, and paid, collected, reported and administered, in all respects in the same manner, as such other existing taxes on such dealers, and shall be subject to such refunds as may be provided by law.

The moneys received into the state treasury from and attributable to the additional excise tax levied by this section shall be paid, within ten days following the month of receipts, into the transportation bond retirement fund until the balance in such fund is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest and premium on bonds and notes issued for transportation purposes, and charges for such payments, payable during the then current calendar year, then shall be paid into the highway bond retirement fund until the balance in such fund is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest and premium on bonds and notes issued for highway purposes, and charges for such payments, payable during the then current calendar year, and any balance of such moneys received during such calendar year shall be paid into the supplementary highway construction fund or other fund as may be prescribed by law, including a fund for the payment of principal of and interest and premium on any bonds or notes of the state, provided that the expenditures of such balance from such funds are authorized by section 5a of Article XII of this Constitution.

The preceding four paragraphs are intended to provide internal procedures of the state for allocation of funds to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes herein authorized, and charges for such payments, and do not in any way qualify or affect the pledge of the full faith, credit, revenue, and taxing power of the state as hereinabove set forth.

The principal of and interest on all bonds and notes issued under this section shall be exempt from all taxes levied by the state or any taxing subdivision or district thereof.

This section or any action hereunder does not in any way reduce the authority of political subdivisions to levy taxes or incur bonded indebtedness, nor does it affect section 5a of Article XII of this Constitution, except with respect to the use of the excise tax levied by this section, or section 9 of Article XII of this Constitution.

Upon the payment of all principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes issued under this section or provision in the respective bond retirement funds of money or direct obligations of, or obligations the principal of and interest of which is fully guaranteed by, the United States of America bearing such maturities and interest as well produce moneys in adequate amount at the times required for such payment, or a combination of both, the commissioners promptly shall make a final report to the general assembly and any balance or excess remaining in the respective bond retirement funds shall be disposed of as provided by law. The excise tax levied by this section shall cease on the thirtieth day after the receipt by the general assembly of such final report.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF
PROPOSED AMENDMENT

For the past few years, Ohio's transportation system has been at a standstill. Vital links of interstate highways still end in cornfields. The public transportation systems in Ohio have $340 million in federal funds reserved, but there is no state matching money to obtain the funds. More than 5,000 bridges in Ohio, many on important rural highways, are unsafe and need repair or replacement. For years, Ohio has been trying to establish modern rail commuter service. City, county and village governments in Ohio are unable to keep up with necessary street and highway maintenance. All of these needs must be met to assure Ohio a good transportation system, which is the key to a sound economy.

This amendment would allow for issuing up to $1.75 billion in transportation improvement bonds. The bonds will be repaid from a .9 of one cent per gallon tax on gasoline — less than a penny. And the federal funds which will be attracted by the bond money will more than pay the interest. Ohioans will get double value for their money.

The money will be allotted as follows:	Million
Aid to Counties, Cities, & Townships	$400
Municipalities - Inner City
Streets & Street Lighting	100
Public Transportation	85
Rail System Service	55
Airports-Aviation Safety	10
Bikeways	5
Park and Park Access Roads	45
Transportation Research	25
State Street, Road, and Highway System Improvements	1,025
	$1,750

Perhaps most important, the bond issue will allow Ohio to move forward NOW with needed transportation improvements at a time when thousands of Ohioans need work. Projects totalling $250 million will be started immediately when the issue passes, allowing the state to get people to work by January.

This bond issue will assure Ohio a top rate transportation system and will get unemployed Ohioans back on the job.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT
VOTE NO ON ISSUE 3

ISSUE 3 WILL RAISE YOUR GASOLINE TAXES.

Issue 3 proposes to increase YOUR already incredibly high gasoline prices by raising state taxes on gasoline to retire a $3.71 billion bond debt ($1.75 billion principal, $1.96 billion interest).

ISSUE 3 IS UNFUNDABLE, UNWORKABLE AND UNNECESSARY.

UNFUNDABLE — The Issue proposes to retire the bond debt with a 13 per cent increase in state gasoline taxes. That increase, though severe to the consumer, would raise only 40 per cent of the money necessary to fully fund the program.

Each year of the 30-year bond indebtedness, Ohio will incur a $76.6 million deficit. Who will have to pay that deficit? YOU WILL, WITH INCREASED TAXES.

UNWORKABLE — The entire program depends on the ability of Ohio to secure $3.25 billion in matching funds from the Federal Government. The proposal ignores the energy crisis which is forcing the Federal Government to shift its funds from highway construction to mass transit systems.

Ohio needs low cost mass transit, not major highways which drain our existing energy resources.

UNNECESSARY — Ohio's number one highway problem is the poor condition of its major highways and state routes. This proposal provides no funds for maintenance and repair of our existing roads.

The result of the passage of this issue would be to add even more roads to the list of those which need maintenance and cannot get it.

This proposal would build new major highways throughout the state at the very time when government and energy officials are asking people to refrain from the unnecessary use of fuel. Further, high speed highways, proposed by this Issue, would prove wasteful in the face of new slower speed limits.

Text of the Proposed
Constitutional Amendment

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Ohio: ARTICLE VIII, Section 14.

(A) It is hereby determined to be in the public interest and a proper public purpose to assist in the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, enlargement, improvement, equipping or repair of new or existing residential housing, or nursing, extended care of other health care facilities, or related facilities.

(B) Laws may be passed to authorize the state and its political subdivisions and its or their public authorities, agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by them as such agencies or instrumentalities, to:

(1) Make loans to lending institutions to be used for the making of loans by them to others for such purpose;

(2) Purchase secured obligations from lending institutions which secured obligations represent loans made by any lending institution for such purpose;

(3) Make direct loans for such purpose;

(4) Guarantee loans and provide interest subsidies for loans made for such purpose;

(5) Acquire, rehabilitate, improve, equip and repair, and sell, lease, exchange and otherwise dispose of property, structures, equipment and facilities for residential housing, nursing, extended care, other health care, and related uses in connection with other powers authorized under this division (B);

(6) Make loans and grants to political subdivisions, public authorities, their agencies or instrumentalities, corporations not for profit for any of the foregoing activities and to individual owners or purchasers for such purpose; and

(7) Borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide moneys for any of the activities set forth in subdivisions (1) through (6) and for any purposes or costs incidental thereto or to such borrowing.

(C) Such laws, bonds, obligations, loans, guarantees, grants, subsidies and lending of aid and credit shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other Section of Article VIII, or of Article XII, Sections (6) and (11). No agreement shall be made for the State to levy taxes for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued or guarantees made pursuant to laws enacted by the general assembly under or ratified, validated, confirmed, and approved by this Section. The general assembly may in its discretion, and without obligations to do so, appropriate at one time or from time to time moneys to reserve funds and guarantee funds to be held therein without lapse of such appropriations, to secure the payment of the principal of, any premium and interest on any bonds or obligations issued by the state, its public authorities, agencies or instrumentalities, or to meet such guarantees so long as the same remain outstanding or unpaid as provided in the agreements pertinent thereto.

(D) In the absence of laws passed by the General Assembly to the contrary, any municipal corporation, as part of its authority to exercise all powers of local self-government pursuant to Article XVIII of the Constitution and whether or not it has adopted a charter, or any county, as provided in Article X of the Constitution, may assist or engage in the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, rehabilitation, enlargement, improvement, equipping or repair of new or existing residential housing, or nursing, extended care or other health care facilities, or related facilities, by such methods as it may determine, including but not limited to any of the methods provided in division (B) of this Section, and may, for such public purpose, raise money, by issuing bonds or other obligations, or give or loan its aid or credit to or in aid of any individual, company, corporation, or association, and such raising of money or giving or lending of aid and credit shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other Section of Article VIII or of Sections (6) and (11) of Article XII of the Constitution. Any general obligation debt contracted by a municipal corporation or county pursuant to the authority of this division shall be subject to any applicable limitations upon such indebtedness provided by law.

(E) For purposes of this Section, "lending institutions" means financial institutions and other corporations, associations or other organizations engaged in the business of making loans for residential housing or nursing, extended care or other health care facilities, including without limitation thereto banks, trust companies, building and savings and loan associations, savings societies, mortgage lenders and insurance companies.

(F) The purpose of this Section is to remove uncertainty with respect to the subjects involved, and this Section is not in derogation of existing powers of the state or its political subdivisions or public authorities, or its or their agencies or instrumentalities.

(G) Substitute House Bill 870 of the 110 General Assembly is hereby validated, ratified, confirmed and approved in all respects and from December 3, 1974, it has been and shall continue to be in full force and effect as a law of this state until amended or repealed by law.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF
PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Ohio's working people are entitled to live in decent housing. Yet with the skyrocketing interest rates, fewer and fewer working families can afford to buy their own homes, or rent safe, clean apartments. At the same time, the housing industry has slumped badly, leaving thousands of building trade workers without jobs.

This amendment will revitalize the housing industry. It will create construction jobs and will provide up to 75,000 new housing units over the next few years by making housing construction money available at reduced interest rates.

It also will tackle for the first time the problem of providing housing for senior citizens who have worked their entire lives for a better Ohio. The amendment will provide for construction of senior citizen housing and care facilities.

How does it work?

The program takes advantage of the fact that bonds issued by the state are tax free. As a result, they can be sold at interest rates 2 per cent to 4 per cent below interest rates that builders have to pay.

A 2 per cent saving on interest amounts to $11,500 over the course of a 25-year, $30,000 mortgage, or a $38 saving each month.

Because of the federal tax laws, the program can be carried out at no cost to the taxpayers. The sale or rent from housing built under the program is used to repay the bonds. The program is similar to the already-proven Air Quality and Water Development Authorities, which have been in operation for years at no cost to Ohio taxpayers.

Committee for the Amendment: Thomas J. Moyer, A.G. Lancione, Charles F. Kurfess, Michael J. Maloney, Robert T. Secrest.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO
PROPOSED AMENDMENT
VOTE NO ON ISSUE 4

ISSUE 4 WILL NOT BUILD LOW COST HOMES

Issue 4 proposes to build, not just homes, but larger, more expensive Nursing Homes, Extended Health Care Facilities, and "Related Uses." Ask yourself, if you were a builder, which would you build, low cost housing or expensive buildings? The answer is obvious.

ISSUE 4 WILL PUT THE STATE IN THE BANKING BUSINESS.

Issue 4 provides for the state to make direct loans for housing construction and rehabilitation thereby bypassing the existing financial institutions who guarantee the repayment of those loans. Should the state make direct loans for a housing project and the borrower default, YOU, the Ohio taxpayer, will have to pay for the loss.

ISSUE 4 HAS NO LIMIT.

New York City's bankrupt Housing Authority is a sad example of what happens when bonded debt has no realistic limitation.

THERE IS A BETTER WAY THAN ISSUE 4.

The Housing Act of 1974 (H.B. 870) enacted into law, is designed to construct low and medium income housing. In fact, the law was designed to limit construction to residential units. House Bill 870 carried a prevailing wage provision for the construction of homes and apartments (8 or more units) in an effort to provide working people in the Building Trades the opportunity to fairly compete in the job market.

ISSUE 4 IS NOT NEEDED.

Existing law allows for the issuances of revenue bonds for housing construction. Therefore it is unnecessary to further amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Text of the Proposed
Constitutional Amendment

Be it resolved by the people of the State of Ohio: ARTICLE VIII, Section 21.

To create and preserve jobs, revitalize urban centers of the state, provide for greater cooperation between state and local government, accelerate the development of port and energy facilities, enhance medical, health care, and educational capabilities of institutions and organizations in the state, foster cultural and social endeavors, and in other respects improve the economic welfare, health, safety, and general welfare of the people of the state, all of which are hereby declared to be vital public purposes of the state, it is hereby determined and declared that the program provided for in and pursuant to this section isurgently needed.

In addition to the authorization otherwise contained in Article VIII of this Constitution, bonds and notes of the state may be issued in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed two billion seven hundred fifty million dollars to provide funds for costs of capital improvements. Such capital improvements include capital improvements for: cities, villages, counties, and other political subdivisions; lake, river, port, harbor, and terminal facilities, improvements, and development, including facilities for conveyance of material from or to such port, harbor and terminal facilities; facilities for energy research, demonstration, development, production and distribution; parks, recreation, and conservation of natural resources; medical research, clinical, hospital and other health care facilities; vocational, technical, and higher education institutions; historical sites, museums, and centers; state and other governmental offices and facilities; correctional, mental health and retardation, day care, social services, and welfare facilities; housing; safe drinking water, water management, air and water pollution control and abatement, and solid waste disposal and resource recovery facilities; community, civic, cultural, recreational, sports, convocation, convention, state fair, and continuing educational facilities; trade centers; off-street parking, and ground and air transportation facilities and terminals; research and development facilities and projects; buildings, structures, or facilities, including parking structures and facilities, and equipment related or incidental to any of the foregoing; and the acquisition of real estate and interests in real estate. Such costs of capital improvements may further include the refunding or retirement of bonds or notes of or issued by state authorities, commissions, departments, institutions, or agencies for such capital improvements, participation with, or grants or advances to, reimbursements of, or loans to municipal corporations, counties, or other governmental or political subdivisions, state and local public authorities, districts, agencies, or institutions, the federal government, and public or private nonprofit or profit corporations, organizations or institutions in or for costs of such capital improvements, provision of moneys through a water and sewer rotary fund, and the acquisition, clearance, or rehabilitation, construction or reconstruction or improvement of real property for the resale or lease thereof to others at prices or rentals determined to encourage development, restoration, rehabilitation, use, occupancy, or maintenance thereof, and costs of demolition of abandoned buildings and structures.

The proceeds from the sale of such bonds and notes, except accrued interest, premium, and proceeds to refund outstanding bonds or notes, shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of a fund designated jobs and development improvement fund (herein called the "improvement fund") to be applied by direct payment, repayment, or grant or loan, to costs of capital improvements pursuant to laws providing for the appropriation of money from such improvement fund.

From the improvement fund there shall be appropriated to the following municipal corporations for costs of capital improvements which municipal corporations are authorized to make or acquire, amounts as follows: $147,000,000 to the City of Cleveland, $67,500,000 to the City of

Sander Given Death Penalty

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — Robert Paul Sander, urging the judge to "carry on" with the sentencing, has been sentenced to death in the gas chamber for five sniper slayings at a Smith River motel.

The 23-year-old former Cincinnati department store employe took the sentence sitting down Monday, refusing the judge's order to stand in the Shasta County Superior Court.

Sander, who had remained silent during his trial and when the verdicts were returned, spoke for the first time when Judge Frank Petersen asked him to stand.

"No, I will not," said the bearded defendant.

Petersen then asked if there was a legal reason why he should not impose sentence, mandatory death for mass murder under California's capital punishment law that went into effect Jan. 1, 1974.

"Carry on," said Sander.

Sander was convicted by a jury on Sept. 4 on four counts of first-degree murder and one count of second-degree murder. The jury also ruled that he was sane on March 2 when the killings occurred at the Ship Ashore motel in Del Norte County.

The sentence carries an automatic appeal to the California Supreme Court. Petersen said Sander must serve life in prison if a higher court rules the death penalty unconstitutional.

Sander, one of half a dozen persons sentenced to death under the mass murder provision of the state law, is scheduled to be transferred to San Quentin within 10 days, authorities said.

He would join 23 men on death row at the prison, all of whom have cases under appeal. The last execution in California was in 1967 and no execution dates have been scheduled.

No motive was established behind the rifle slayings, which were described as "senseless" by Sander's attorney, Philip Schafer.

The bonds and notes, the application of the proceeds thereof, and provisions for and the payment thereof authorized by this section are not subject to any requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or sections 5, 6 and 11 of Article XII of this Constitution.

The bonds and notes issued under authority of this section are general obligations of the state and the full faith, credit, revenue, and taxing power of the state are pledged to the payment of the principal thereof and interest and premium thereon.

The bonds and notes shall be issued and sold by the commissioners of the sinking fund (herein called the "commissioners") from time to time in amounts authorized by law, subject to the limitations of this section. If bonds are notes are issued under this section to retire bonds or notes previously issued under this section, such new bonds are notes shall not be counted against the aggregate limit of bonds and notes which may be issued under this section to the extent that the principal amount thereof does not exceed the principal amount of the bonds or notes to be retired thereby. Each issue of bonds shall mature in not more than thirty years from date of issuance. No bond or note shall mature after December 31, 2009. Each issue of notes shall mature in not more than five years from date of issuance, or from the date of issuance of the original debt represented thereby if such notes are issued for the refunding of notes previously issued. The bonds and the notes shall be sold at competitive sale in the manner determined by the commissioners. The bonds and notes shall bear such terms, consistent with this section, as the commissioners determine or provide for in resolutions for their authorization or sale. Any of the powers and duties of the commissioners under this paragraph may be delegated by each commissioner to an officer or employee of such commissioners' office designated by such commissioner in a written designation filed with the secretary of state.

There is hereby established in the treasury of the state a fund designated Ohio jobs and development bond retirement fund (herein called the "bond retirement fund") into which shall be paid all accrued interest and premium received upon the sale of such bonds and notes. All income and profit received from investment of moneys in the bond retirement fund and the improvement fund, to be made or caused to be made by the treasurer of state pursuant to law, shall be paid into the bond retirement fund.

On or before the first day of July in each calendar year, the director of budget and management shall certify to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state the total amount of funds the director of budget and management determines is necessary to provide, together with any moneys in the bond retirement fund available for such purpose, for the payment in the ensuing calendar year of principal of and interest and any premium on the bonds and notes, and charges for such payments, other than the amounts funded or to be funded with the proceeds of bonds and notes. Such certification may be supplemented or adjusted by additional certifications provided to the auditor of state and the treasurer of state by the director of budget and management. The auditor of state and the treasurer of state shall take such actions as are necessary to transfer from the state general revenue fund to the bond retirement fund the amounts so certified, as supplemented or adjusted, at the times and in the amounts required for such purposes, without necessity for appropriation; provided that if and to the extent that any part of the amount required has been appropriated for such purpose from any other funds, the auditor and treasurer shall transfer from such other funds the amount so appropriated and reduce accordingly the amount to be transferred from the state general revenue fund. The bond retirement fund shall be paid out by the treasurer of state to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes and charges for such payments as the same are due and payable, without necessity for appropriation.

To assure that the revenues of the state will at all times be adequate to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes authorized by this section, and charges for such payments, without impairment of other programs of the state, there is hereby levied, as provided below, beginning July 1, 1976, on retail sales made in this state an excise tax at the rate of seven-tenths of one percent of the price of such retail sale, and on the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of tangible personal property an excise tax at the rate of seven-tenths of one per cent of the price at which such property has been purchased which excise taxes shall be in addition to all other excise taxes levied from time to time by the state, counties, and transit authorities, or by any other taxing authority, on retail sales made in this state and on the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of tangible personal property and shall be imposed upon the same subjects, with the same exclusions, exemptions and refunds, and paid, collected, reported, and administered in all respects in the same manner, as such other excise taxes. Such additional taxes at the rate of seven-tenths of one per cent are hereby levied and shall be collected with such other excise taxes authorized by law in the combined amount of whole cents for all such taxes on prices within brackets as prescribed by law, which law is not subject to referendum and shall go into immediate effect for the levy of such additional excise taxes beginning July 1, 1976. If no such law is in effect on May 15, 1976, then the tax commissioner shall immediately adopt and file with the secretary of state a rule prescribing such brackets and the whole cents of excise taxes applicable to each bracket; and such rule shall be effective and conclusive, upon such filing, for determining the tax levied hereby to and including December 31, 1976 or until the effective date of a law prescribing such brackets, whichever last occurs.

That portion of the taxes collected by the state from and attributable to the excise taxes hereby levied shall be paid, within ten days following the month of receipt, into the bond retirement fund until the balance in such fund is sufficient to pay the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes, and charges for such payments, payable during the then current calendar year, and any balance of such portion received during such calendar year shall be paid into the improvement fund and shall be available for appropriation for costs of capital improvements or, if and as provided by law, shall be paid into any other fund or funds for the payment of principal of and interest and premium on any bonds or notes of the state. For purposes of this paragraph, the portion of such sales and use taxes collected by the state from and attributable to the excise taxes levied hereby shall be determined as follows: the total collection of excise taxes collected by the state on retail sales and the storage, use or other consumption of tangible personal property, after deducting the portion to be returned by law to counties, transit authorities, and any other taxing authority then levying such taxes pursuant to law, shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is seven-tenths of one per cent and the denominator of which is the aggregate rate of such taxes then levied by the state, and the product thereof shall be the amount of such taxes from and attributable to the excise taxes levied hereby.

The preceding three paragraphs are intended to provide internal procedures of the state for allocation of funds to meet the principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes herein authorized, and charges for such payments, and do not in any way qualify or affect the pledge of the full faith, credit, revenue, and taxing power of the state as hereinabove set forth.

The principal of and interest on all bonds and notes issued under this section shall be exempt from all taxes levied by the state or any taxing subdivision or district thereof.

The reference herein to the director of budget and management and the tax commissioner shall be deemed to include officers who pursuant to law succeed to their respective duties.

This section or any action hereunder does not in any way reduce the authority of political subdivisions to levy taxes or incur bonded indebtedness, nor does it affect section 5a or section 9 of Article XII of this Constitution.

Upon the payment of all principal of and interest and premium on the bonds and notes issued under this section or provision in the bond retirement fund of moneys or direct obligations of, or obligations the principal of and interest on which is fully guaranteed by, the United States bearing such maturities and interest as well produce moneys in adequate amount at the times required for such payment, or a combination of both, the commissioners promptly shall make a final report to the General Assembly, and any balance or excess remaining in the bond retirement fund shall be disposed of as provided by law. The excise taxes levied by this section shall cease on the thirtieth day after the receipt by the General Assembly of such final report.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

This amendment will provide the boldest approach ever used by government to clean up blight in Ohio's cities and villages, and to attack the problems of unemployment. The program is a big answer to a big problem.

The most important feature is a series of direct grants to Ohio cities and villages for cleanup and downtown improvement programs. The money can be used for any worthwhile purpose. Possible uses include building of athletic or convention facilities, senior citizen centers, tree-planting, parks and green spaces and parking.

All projects will be initiated at the local level by local elected officials.

But the city renovation is only the beginning. Other features include:

- $200 million to clean up depressed areas of Ohio.
- $150 million to develop energy resources in Ohio to keep Ohio plants open.
- $140 million to build cancer research and treatment hospitals in Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Cleveland.
- $40 million to expand open heart surgery capacity at the Cleveland Clinic, to make this treatment available to the average working Ohioan.
- $275 million to develop top rate ports along Lake Erie and the Ohio River to open new trade horizons for the state.
- $75 million for state park facilities, including lodges within 30 minutes of the three largest cities.
- $50 million for safe drinking water projects.
- $100 million to complete Ohio's vocational education system to make our young people productive citizens.
- $50 million for trash resource recovery projects.
- 75 million to upgrade Ohio's penal institutions.
- $145 million for needed additional state government facilities including regional office buildings.

The projects will be paid by a $275 billion bond note, which will be repaid by .7 of one cent increase — less than 1 per cent — in the state sales tax.

Committee for the Amendment: Thomas J. Moyer, A.G. Lancione, Charles F. Kurfess, Michael J. Maloney, Robert T. Secrest.

ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT
VOTE NO ON ISSUE 5

ISSUE 5 WILL RAISE YOUR SALES TAXES BY 17.5 PER CENT.

Issue 5 proposes to raise $5.83 billion ($2.75 billion principal and $3.08 billion interest) for capital improvements projects by the sale of bonds. The bonds are to be paid for by revenues generated by increasing YOUR Ohio Sales Tax by 17.5 per cent.

ISSUE 5 IS TOO EXPENSIVE.

Issue 5 proposes to place Ohioans in debt to the tune of $5.83 billion for an unwieldy and unplanned program with all the earmarks of a pork barrel promising something for nothing to everyone.

EACH OHIO FAMILY WILL HAVE TO PAY $1500 IN ADDITIONAL TAXES FOR THIS PROGRAM.

The cost of Ohio's present bond debt, coupled with these Issues, will mean a loss to the General Revenue Fund of more than one half a billion dollars each year - a vast sum that could have been applied to improve existing state services or reduce your tax burdens.

ISSUE 5 BENEFITS ONLY THOSE PEOPLE WHO ARE LEAST AFFECTED BY REGRESSIVE TAXES.

Issue 5 as a sales tax increase is most harmful to those persons of moderate and low income who can least afford the additional tax burden.

The people who benefit from these Issues are the people who will be buying the bonds, and sharing in the more than $5 billion in interest which YOU and every working man and women in Ohio will be paying over the next 30 years.

ISSUE 5 CREATES A PERMANENT DEBT FOR TEMPORARY JOBS.

Issue 5 will place future generations in serious debt while creating only a minimal number of temporary new jobs; jobs which will last at the most for only a year or two.

Ohio cannot afford to go into debt to create a few jobs for programs of questionable value.

VOTE NO ON ISSUE 5

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE

I, TED W. BROWN, Secretary of State of the State of Ohio, do hereby certify that the foregoing are true copies of the text of four proposed constitutional amendments initiated by petition, together with arguments for their adoption and arguments against their adoption, filed in the Office of the Secretary of State and proposing to amend the above Sections of the Constitution of Ohio.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my official seal at Columbus the eighth day of September, 1975.

TED W. BROWN
Secretary of State

Sept. 23-30-Oct. 7-14-21

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Abby Scored

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where someone said gentlemen used to prefer blondes, but today it seems that gentlemen prefer gentlemen. And you said, "No, I think most gentlemen still prefer blondes, brunettes and redheads."

Abby, I am greatly disappointed in you. Don't you realize that you have a lot of black readers who don't happen to be blondes, redheads, or brunettes?

LOLLIE IN TULSA

DEAR LOLLIE: The letter to which you refer appeared in Ann Landers' column, not mine.

And Lollie, dear, please don't be too hard on my twin sister because I have seen black women with beautiful red and even blonde hair. Of course, it's not their natural color, but then neither is mine.

DEAR ABBY: I hear so much criticism of young couples who live together first and then have lovely church weddings, I hope you'll be fair and let an opposing point of view be heard:

After living together for five years, Bill and I were married last June. We had 65 guests at a lovely church wedding, followed by a garden reception in the back yard of our home. (We paid for everything ourselves.)

We both wore white to symbolize the purity of our first and only marriage. We waited for five years to be sure that what God had joined together no man could put asunder.

Standing on that altar in the presence of God, our families and friends was a spiritual experience we shall cherish all our lives as the ultimate commitment.

Everyone present said it was the most meaningful and beautiful wedding they had ever attended.

Some would say that Bill and I had lived in "sin." We think it's a greater sin for married couples to live together in a loveless union, while committing adultery with others.

HAPPILY WED

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that I am sure is shared by thousands. In fact, I have been on both sides recently.

In the case of overnight guests, who should make the first suggestion that they retire for the night? The host or the other couple?

A MATTER OF ETIQUETTE

DEAR MATTER: It's more a matter of common sense than etiquette. Whether you are the host or the guest, when you're ready to retire, simply say, "Let's call it a night, shall we?"

Say Women Priests Not Necessary

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Women priests are not an absolute necessity, says the presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, but if the Church decides to ordain women, then "God be praised."

At a Sunday evening sermon attended by more than 125 Episcopal bishops, the Rt. Rev. John M. Allin said the controversy over the ordination was less important than the need to prevent divisions within the 3 million-member Church.

"At this point, I don't think it is absolutely necessary to the Kingdom of God that women be ordained bishops and priests," he said. "But if this Church decides that we are going to ordain women as priests, God be praised."

In his only vote on the issue, a year before his 1973 election as presiding bishop, Bishop Allin was opposed in principle to the ordination of women to the priesthood and episcopacy.

During the controversy that followed last year's ordination of 11 women in Philadelphia, he has urged reconciliation between those opposing and supporting women priests.

In a service in St. Luke's Cathedral, during the annual meeting of the Church's House of Bishops, Bishop Allin said he was certain that the Church would be able to reach a decision on the issue.

"I don't believe that's a delay or a stall. I really believe that we've got the capabilities and that it is going to be resolved," he said.

Name Hospital Chief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A. Robert Crawford Jr., 46, a veteran of 19 years in hospital administration, has been named superintendent of Tiffin State Hospital, effective Oct. 6.

The male Australian emu, second largest bird in the world, gets the job of hatching the eggs and taking care of the newly hatched chicks.

University Gets Federal Grant

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The University of Toledo has been awarded a $90,000 federal grant to reimburse instructional fees for some students in the law enforcement and correctional technology associate degree programs.

The grant was made by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U.S. Department of Justice. The associate degrees are offered by the university's community and technical college.

The money will go to students who are currently employed in law enforcement and criminal justice fields.

UMW Grievance Speedup Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — An industry-union committee trying to find ways to speed up the processes for handling coal miners' grievances will hold public hearings soon.

Formation of the study committee came after a recent month-long wildcat strike that began in protest to the slow handling of complaints filed by United Mine Workers members.

UMW Secretary-Treasurer Harry Patrick said Monday he had spent the weekend meeting with officials of the Charleston, W.Va.-based District 17 to begin preparations for the hearings which will be held in that district where the recent strike was spawned.

"The problems rank and file miners are having getting grievances settled quickly, at the mine site, are very real," he said, "and it's long past time that everyone concerned took a long, hard look at them."

Patrick said the industry-union commission will examine all areas in which miners' grievances are not being settled and present its findings to both the Bituminous Coal Operators Association and U.S. District Court judges in the area.

Serving on the commission with Patrick are UMW International Executive Board Members Gene Mitchell of District 12 in Illinois and Nick DeVince of District 5 in Western Pennsylvania.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

Vietnam may seem a thing of the past to many Americans, but to the wives and families of those servicemen still listed as missing in action, it is still a very real and ongoing tragedy.

No significant progress has been made toward resolving this matter. Although an accounting for every missing American citizen was agreed to in the Paris peace agreement, the Hanoi Government has so far failed to live up to the terms of the agreement.

The House last week showed its determination to get things moving when it passed a resolution, which I cosponsored, to set up a 10-member select committee to investigate fully the fate of 832 servicemen still listed as missing in action in Southeast Asia and to secure the return of the remains of some 1,500 known dead.

It will seek the release of 36 persons thought still to be held as prisoners. The Department of Defense still carries them as prisoners of war. Some 58 Ohioans are among the American missing in action.

The inquiry by the committee will be limited to North Vietnam, South Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia.

We have to move now if we are to meet with any real success in our search. Time is of the essence, because the tropical environment in Southeast Asia tends to hide traces of evidence that would be needed to determine the fate of our missing, as well as the crash sites of known dead.

There are more than 1,000 crash sites involving over 50 different types and models of aircraft. These crash sites are on mountains and in jungles, and in the many other types of rugged terrain in Indochina.

Congress already has concrete information on crash sites that could and should be investigated. It might be possible for neutral country search teams to go to these crash sites on behalf of the United States. We also know of numerous shallow graves throughout Southeast Asia where we could recover the remains of known dead.

For instance, it apparently is common knowledge that the bodies of two U.S. Marines are now being held in a Seventh-day Adventist hospital morgue in Saigon. They should be reclaimed by our Government.

Search operations are now being carried out by our Joint Casualty Resolution Center in Northeast Thailand. They work long and hard to locate our missing — and without any help from the governments of North Vietnam and Laos.

Establishment of this select committee should encourage and prod the Department of State for more concrete efforts to resolve the MIA problem. Considerable criticism has been leveled at the State Department for its apparent lack of diligence in attempting to gain compliance with the MIA provisions of the Paris Peace Accords.

It is time we focused public opinion on the uncooperative and inhumane manner in which the present governments in Indochina are treating the MIA problem. Although it is often a slow process, public opinion does have an effect on the Communist leaders in these nations.

We do not know how much is being done or whether enough is being done to determine whether our servicemen are alive or dead, are prisoners, or have escaped their captors. One thing is certain — if these Americans are known to be dead, we are obligated to bring their remains home and give them honored, military burials.

In approving this resolution, the House showed that it is sincerely interested in determining the fate of our MIA's. The select committee will provide a place where families can bring information they have to be evaluated.

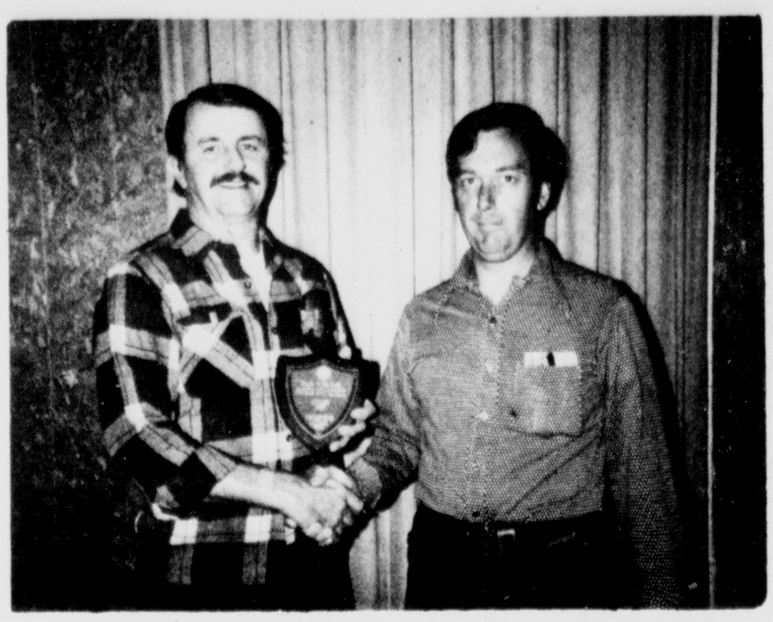
We must make every effort to alleviate the sorrow and uncertainty afflicting so many of our citizens. Our involvement in Southeast Asia cannot be finalized until we have exhaustively examined all the facts in this tragic history of our mission in action.

Copperweld Suit Now In Recess

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A hearing on Copperweld Corps.' legal efforts to avoid being taken over by a French holding company has been recessed for a week.

Copperweld, which fabricates metal products at plants in Pennsylvania and Ohio, is seeking an injunction to block a $118 million tender offer from Paris-based Societe Imetal.

After six days of testimony ended Monday, U.S. District Court Judge John L. Miller told attorneys for both sides to submit legal briefs by next Monday and to prepare to argue their cases Oct. 1.



KNIGHT OF THE MONTH—Jim McConnell (left) was recently named Knight of the Month by the Circleville Knights of Columbus lodge. McConnell received the honor for his outstanding effort as tournament director of the fifth annual K of C invitational softball tournament. The award was presented by Jim Butler (right), fraternal chairman. Members were reminded that Ohio Charities Campaign is now underway and were urged to participate actively. The first "turn-in" is scheduled Oct. 9 at the council home.

Gate-Crash Bid Brings 4 Charges

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Bond was set Monday at $3,300 for a 19-year-old Brookville, Ind., girl accused of commandeering a truck in a gate-crashing attempt that injured seven policeman at a rock concert Sunday.

None of the policemen was seriously injured.

Diane Lynn Gabbard, one of three persons arrested in the incident, is charged with criminal damaging, unlawful use of an hallucinogen, felonious assault and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Her case was continued.

Police said Miss Gabbard and two companions commandeered a truck which was used to empty portable toilets.

Klare Renay Bias, 19, of Columbus, was convicted of complicity in the case and placed on six months probation. Cliff Legere, 20, of Brookville, was also charged with complicity. His bond was set at $5,000 and a continuance was granted until Friday.

Rickey Dean Wilcox, of Hamilton, one of the 12 persons arrested in the aftermath of the festival which drew an estimated 40,000 fans, was convicted Monday in Hamilton County Criminal Court of disorderly conduct. He was charged with throwing a rock at a Hamilton County sheriff's deputy.

State Officials Ready Testimony

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Five top-elected state officials have been invited to testify Thursday before the Indiana House subcommittee on executive reorganization.

Gov. Otis R. Bowen is sending an executive assistant, Raymond W. Rizzo. Others invited are Lt. Gov. Robert D. Orr, Secretary of State Larry A. Conrad, Treasurer Jack L. New, Atty. Gen. Theodore L. Sendak, Auditor Mary Currie and School Supt. Harold H. Negley.

The subcommittee is considering proposals to revamp state government into about 20 cabinet-type agencies.

Campus Notes

Stephen P. Gilmore, 530 Nicholas Drive, was among the more than 160 Ohio State University students to receive DDS degrees Friday.

The commencement for the College of Dentistry was held in Mershon Auditorium with Dr. Robert B. Shira speaking. Dr. Shira is dean of the School of Dental Medicine at Tufts University in Boston and is president-elect of the American Dental Association.

The University of Cincinnati College of Medicine began its 156th academic year on Sept. 16. Entering this year's freshman class is Sarah Margaret Knox, 327 Meadow Lane.

Miss Knox joins a class of 148 men and 44 women at UC's College of Medicine.

Circleville Football Team Ranked 2nd In First AP Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Class AAA Cincinnati Moeller and Class AA Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, two of The Associated Press' mythical state champions last season, seized the leads today in the first Ohio high school football ratings of the regular 1975 season.

Middletown Fenwick, second to McDonald in the final poll in 1974, claimed the No. 1 spot in the Class A ratings by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

The leaders all have peeled off three straight victories to start the season.

Moeller, the first Cincinnati school ever to win the big school ratings' title, piled up the most points in any division this week. The Queen City power accumulatd 156 points.

Two Warren strongboys, Western Reserve and Harding, claimed the next two Class AAA spots. Western Reserve earned 119 points. 12 ahead of Harding. Both are 3-0-0.

St. Vincent-St. Mary's margin was less formidable in Class AA. The leaders collected 95 points, 10 more than runnerup Circleville, also 3-0-0. Wheelersburg, riding a 28-game winning streak, was third, three points behind Circleville.

Fenwick, which rolled to the Class A playoff title last fall, had 149 points while runnerup Newark Catholic, a former AP mythical state winner, earned 127 points in a two-team race.

Canal Winchester, also cruising along with a 3-0-0 start, claimed the No. 3 position with 95 points.

Lancaster was fourth in Class AAA, followed, in order, by Newark, Zanesville, East Liverpool, Upper Arlington, Kettering Alter and Youngstown Mooney.

In Class AA, New Lexington, another ex-AP state champion, was fourth and then, in order, came Beloit West Branch, Minerva, Toronto, Ironton, Wellston and Cleveland Holy Name.

In Class A, Salineville Southern landed in the No. 4 spot. Following was Jamestown Greeneview in fifth. Carey, Monroeville, North Lima South Range and Minster all shared sixth while Sidney Lehman was tenth.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here's how a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters rates Ohio high school football teams in the first Associated Press poll of the season (10 points for first to 1 point for 10th):

Raiders Dominate Dolphins, 31-21

MIAMI (AP) — Oakland Coach John Madden finally found out what it's like to win a National Football League season opener. But injuries have cooled his excitement over the Raiders' convincing 31-21 conquest of the Miami Dolphins.

Madden apparently lost defensive tackle Kelvin Korver for the season with knee ligament damage in Monday night's victory, Oakland's first opening success in six years. A team spokesman also said fullback Marv Hubbard was probably lost for three weeks with a shoulder injury.

On the bright side was a defensive effort that thoroughly dominated Miami in the first half and quarterback Ken Stabler's expert dissecting of a Dolphin defense, a defense noticeably missing injured veterans Nick Buoniconti, Dick Anderson and Manny Fernandez.

"We got off to a good jump .. then in the second half, it seemed something would always happen to give Miami a little lift," said Madden after breaking Miami's 31-game winning streak at home.

"They proved they're still a fine team. They kept coming back at us," Madden said of the Dolphins, whose offense was without World Football League defectors Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick.

The Raiders jumped on top 17-0 on plunges of two and one yards by Pete Banaszak and a 25-yard field goal by George Blanda. Oakland upped the lead to 24-7 on Mark van Eeghen's yard run in the third period.

But it took a 102-yard kickoff return and three interceptions, all in the fourth quarter, to kill the Dolphins.

"There wasn't any excuse for the runback," said Dolphins' Coach Don Shula of Harold Hart's return which came after Norm Bulaich had ended an 80-yard drive with a yard plunge to cut the lead to 24-14.

Bengals Irritated By Charges

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Bengals voiced irritation Monday at charges they were lucky to escape with a 24-17 victory in Sunday's National Football League opener against Cleveland.

"They only drove for one touchdown on us," bristled middle linebacker Jim LeClair. "So what?.

"Hey, they've got a good quarterback, a good offensive line. They're a good team," he said.

"Any time you beat a team that good, you deserve it," he added.

Offensive tackle Vern Holland said the Bengals deserved credit for their game-saving drive in the final minutes after the defense repulsed Cleveland with two brilliant goal line stands.

Cincinnati marched from their own goal into Browns territory, controlling the ball for the final six minutes.

"When we've got to go out and get it, we go out and get it," said Holland. "There's no luck in that."

Coach Paul Brown said the Bengals missed chances to put the Browns away early in the second half. Leading 24-3, Brown said Cincinnati "went downfield and had two bad ball-handling plays in a row. We got down there and got just a field goal.

"Then they got two quick touchdowns and we went sort of flat. I've seen it happen before," he said.

Speak English Posts Surprise Latonia Win

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Speak English, a 2-year-old filly off at 118-1 odds, won the second race at Latonia Monday night, triggering a near record $575.40 daily double payoff.

The 7-11 combination produced the second largest daily double payoff in the track's history.

Speak English paid $238.80, the most since Judges Song paid $484.40 in 1969. King Brook won the first race.

OSU Reaches 2nd Slot In Grid Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Ohio State and Southern California became Oklahoma's top challengers in The Associated Press college football poll today in the wake of Michigan's 19-19 tie with Stanford.

The surprising deadlock dropped Michigan from second to ninth in the rankings.

Oklahoma, the preseason favorite after winning the 1974 national championship, held onto the top spot with 56 first-place votes and 1,192 of a possible 1,200 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters following a 46-10 trouncing of Pitt that dropped the losers out of the Top Twenty.

Ohio State defeated Pen State 17-9 and moved up from third to second with three first-place votes and 1,031 points while Penn State fell from seventh to 12th. Southern California, a 24-7 winner over Oregon State, climbed from fourth to third. The Trojans received the other first-place ballot and 954 points.

Nebraska jumped from sixth to fourth with an impressive 45-0 walloping of Indiana while Missouri defeated Illinois 30-20 and retained fifth place.

Texas went from eighth to sixth by downing Washington 28-10. The Longhorns were followed by Notre Dame, up from ninth to seventh thanks to a 17-0 blanking of Purdue. Texas A&M was up from 11th to eighth after a 39-8 drubbing of Louisiana State, with Michigan ninth and UCLA 10th after defeating Tennessee 34-28. The Bruins, 12th a week ago, replaced Tennessee in 10th place while the Vols fell to 16th.

Alabama, which began the season in second place only to lose its opener to Missouri, got back to 11th by crushing Clemson 56-0. Rounding out the Second Ten behind the Crimson Tide were Penn State, Arizona State, West Virginia, Arizona, Tennessee, Oklahoma State, Stanford, Florida and Maryland.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Texas A&M, UCLA, Florida, Alabama, Pitt, Arkansas, Arizona, Arizona State, Miami of Ohio and West Virginia.

Arkansas dropped out by losing to Olkahoma State 20-13 and Miami was ousted via a 14-13 loss to Michigan State.

Here are the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college football poll, with firstplace votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

1. Oklahoma	(56)	2-0-0	1,174

NFL Pact Remains Unsettled

CHICAGO (AP) — A new contract proposal that relaxes the controversial Rozelle Rule and could cost the 26 club owners an estimated $30 million in new money over five years still has not brought about a National Football League labor peace.

The NFL Management Council, representing the owners, made its latest proposal to the players union Monday, but daylong negotiations apparently have failed to resolve the wide differences between the two sides that have been prevalent in talks over the past 20 months.

Negotiations under the supervision of federal mediators continued today.

After the prolonged sessions, Sargent Karch, council executive director, said management had responded to a challenge by union president Kermit Alexander to make a final offer and give it's "best shot."

"We have today given our 'best shot,'" Karch told newsmen. "Like other unions, they would like to get the moon, everything they demand. They don't believe we have given them everything we can give. We hope they will accept the package."

Alexander and other union leaders and player representatives present at the meeting declined to comment specifically on the owners' latest proposal, going from the joint session with management into a union meeting that lasted late into the night.

CHS Golfers Win Match At Chillicothe

The Circleville High School Golf team defeated Chillicothe, 174-167, in a match played in the rain at Chillicothe Country Club.

Keith Sanders paced the Tigers and was medalist with a 38. He carded five pars and eagled the second hole, a par 5, holing short chip shot.

Mike McCoy shot a 40, collecting six pars along the way. Other scores by Tiger golfers were 44 by Mike McKelvey, 45 by Dave Wylie and 46 by Dave DeFrank.

Today the Tigers travel to Columbus Country Club to play Bexley.

LEHS Reserves Lose, 22-6

The Logan Elm Reserve football team lost to Fairfield Union, 22-6, Monday.

In spite of the loss, LE reserve mentor Nick Damopolous reported the Braves coaching staff is pleased with the overall reserve program this year.

Logan Elm, for the first time, has the reserve program using mostly freshmen and a few sophomores, but no varsity players at all.

The coach noted that Fairfield Union uses varsity players on its reserve squad.

Damopolous said that 23 of the 27 reserve candidates saw some action Monday since the purpose of the program is to gain game experience for as many players as possible.

He credited Joe Gumm and Brent Gifford with outstanding defensive games. The Braves scored on a 60-yard pass play from Tom Davis to Bruce Hannigan.

Volleyball Teams Win

The Circleville High School Girls reserve and varsity volleyball teams defeated Miami Trace in the opening South Central Ohio League encounter Tuesday. Both the CHS varsity and reserves are undefeated with 2-0 records.

The scores of the reserve matches were 15-3 and 15-1. High scorers for the girls were Vick Morrison with 11 and Sue Stevenson and Kathy Fanale with eight each.

The scores of the varsity games were 15-3 and 15-3. Nancy Radcliff and Linda Holveck scored 10 each and Brenna Littner five.

The next game for the volleyball team is 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Logan Elm.

Tiger Tennis Players Lost To Bishop Flaget

The Circleville High School Girls tennis team lost to Chillicothe Bishop Flaget, 3-2, Tuesday on the Tiger courts.

Here are the results of the matches:

Sue Radcliff of Circleville lost to Linda Skinner, 6-2 and 6-2; Kelly Steele of Circleville defeated Michele Whalen, 6-3 and 7-5; Laura Dowd of Circleville lost to Mary Hosler, 6-1 and 6-4; Circleville doubles team of Rojanne Bowers and Donna Milburn defeated Ann Ginther and Celia Anderson, 6-0, 4-6 and 6-4; Circleville doubles team of Denise and Deanna Crawford lost to Donna Miller and Lisa Stanton, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-3.

In exhibition matches, Ellen Yunker and Paula Tussing lost.

Tonight the tennis team travels to Grove City for a match.

Teays Valley Frosh, Reserve Gridders Win

Both the Teays Valley reserve and freshman football teams won games played against Hamilton Twp. Saturday by 6-0 scores. For the reserves, Greg Prince scored the winning touchdown, a 35-yard punt return.

In the freshman game, Rex Pierce was the leading groundgainer for the Vikings with over 100 yards. Ernie Parsons and Doug Hardman were credited with playing the best defense.

Pirates Take NL East

HOUSTON (AP) — Cincinnati pitcher Jack Billingham got into trouble in the first inning and the Reds never quite recovered as they lost to the Houston Astros 5-1 in National League baseball action Monday night.

Billingham, 15-10, allowed singles from Arthur Gardner and Rob Andrews, then Cesar Cedeno smacked his 13th homer of the season to put the Astros ahead 3-0.

Billingham blanked the Astros on three hits during the next five innings before being relieved by Will McEnaney, who walked Cedeno in the seventh and paved the way for Cliff Johnson to push the score to 5-0 with his 17th homer of the year.

The loss was Cincinnati's 53rd of the year, against 103 wins. The Reds have three more games against Houston and three at home against Atlanta before finishing the season.

Houston hurler Joe Niekro, 6-4, took the victory, but needed help in the ninth inning from Paul Siebert after loading the bases.

Neikro, who allowed the Reds only four hits in eight innings, says he has been pitching well since the All-Star break.

"I had pretty good stuff," Niekro said. "My elbow has been a little tender and I didn't have as much velocity as I usually do. But I was thankful I was able to go this far against a team like Cincinnati. I threw 55 to 60 per cent knuckle balls."

Niekro, who had given up only two hits going into the ninth, ran into trouble in that inning. Doug Flynn got an infield hit and Dave Concepcion followed with a single. Niekro hit Ken Griffey to load the bases and then walked Darrel Chaney to force in a run.

Siebert, a rookie, relieved. He struck out pinch hitter Tony Perez and got George Foster, also pinch hitting, to hit into a game-ending double play. That gained the young lefthander his first save of the season.

Philadelphia Manager Danny Ozark may not have been the only man in Three Rivers Stadium that didn't know his team was eliminated from the National League East race but he was the only one who admitted it.

"We aren't out of it if we win every game and they lose every game," insisted Ozark after Pittsburgh walloped the Phils 11-3. Told that his team was seven games back with just six to play, Ozark said, "That's news to me ... it's disheartening."

If Ozark wanted more confirmation he could have dropped by the Pirate clubhouse where the champagne was flowing and congratulations being exchanged all around.

"This is a great way to win a championship, beating the team that has been chasing you," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh who knows a division title when he wins one.

"We're used to winning," said outfielder Dave Parker. "Even when we went bad this year the Phillies didn't gain any ground on us and we just felt 'Hey, it's meant for us.'"

"I haven't been on a championship team since I was 14," added reliever Kent Tekulve. "We won the Babe Ruth League or something."

It was the fifth division crown in the last six years for the Bucs.

Elsewhere in the NL, Houston beat Cincinnati 5-1, San Diego edged Los Angeles 6-5 in 11 innings and St. Louis and Montreal split a double header, the Cardinals winning the first game 6-4 in 12 innings and the Expos taking the second one 8-5.

The Bucs brought out the big bats Monday night to end Phillie hopes of a miracle comeback. Pittsburgh built a 6-3 lead over the first seven innings, then wrapped it up with five runs in the eighth.

Dave Parker and Richie Zisk drove in four runs each, Parker with two singles and his 23rd home run and Zisk with two singles and a double. Ozark tried to stem the tide with seven pitchers and the first one, Tom Underwood, 14-13, took the loss.

Bruce Kison, 12-11, and Tekulve teamed for a seven-hitter for Pittsburgh.

Next stop for the Bucs will be the NL pennant series against the Reds, who clinched the West Division weeks ago.

Padres 6, Dodgers 5

Hector Torres led off the 11th inning with a home run to give San Diego the victory, snapping the Padres six-game losing streak. San Diego tied it in the ninth on a two-out wild pitch by knuckleballer Charlie Hough.

Cardinals 6-5, Expos 4-8

Ted Simmons won the opener for St. Louis with a two-run homer in the 12th inning, snapping a five-game Montreal winning streak. The Cards tied it in the ninth on an error by Montreal first baseman Nate Colbert.

The Expos came back in the nightcap on the strength of Jim Lyttle's two-run pinch single in the sixth.

Red Sox Trip Yankees, 6-4

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

In his first regular season game with Boston this year, Deron Johnson proved worthy of the Red Sox' evaluation. The second one, not the first one.

The Red Sox' first assessment of Johnson in October, 1974 sent the 37-year-old veteran packing. He wound up in Chicago. But on Sunday, after they lost superstar rookie Jim Rice for the rest of the season with a broken hand, the Red Sox welcomed Johnson back.

"I was shocked," said Johnson, who was traded from the White Sox to the Red Sox. "I didn't think I would go somewhere this late in the season."

But Johnson had regained his composure by the time he slipped on a Boston uniform once again. He led his new-old teammates to a 6-4 victory Monday night over the New York Yankees, another one of his old clubs, with three hits, one RBI and one run scored.

The victory widened the Red Sox' lead over idle Baltimore in the American League East to four games and reduced the Red Sox' pennant-clinching number to four. Any combination of Boston victories and Baltimore losses totaling four will insure the Red Sox of their first division title since 1967. Boston has six games remaining and Baltimore has eight left.

Elsewhere in the AL, Oakland failed for another day to clinch its fifth straight Western Division crown, losing to Minnesota 2-1 while second-place Kansas City nipped Texas 2-1; Cleveland edged Milwaukee 7-6, and California outlasted the Chicago White Sox 3-0 in 16 innings.

Fred Lynn, having a super year with his first major league team in his rookie season, collected three hits, drove in two runs, scored two and rapped his 46th double, setting a league record for rookies.

Johnson's three hits equalled his entire output with the Red Sox in the final three weeks of last season after Boston had purchased him from Milwaukee.

Twins 2, A's 1

Minnesota left-hander Eddie Bane delayed Oakland's division clinching celebration, scattering seven hits before needing ninth-inning relief help from Bill Campbell and Tom Burgmeier.

Royals 2, Rangers 1

The Royals came close to eliminating themselves, rallying for two runs in the eighth to just nip Texas. George Brett hit a leadoff single and came home on Tony Solaita's RBI double to right. Al Cowens then singled to set up pinch-hitter Cookie Rojas' game-winning sacrifice fly.

Al Fitzmorris pitched an eight-hitter to raise his record to 16-11.

Angels 3, White Sox 0

Adrian Garrett smashed a three-run homer off Rich Gossage in the 16th inning to give California its marathon victory over the White Sox.

Indians 7, Brewers 6

Pinch hitter Oscar Gamble's two-run single in the bottom of the ninth lifted Cleveland past Milwaukee, which profited from two homers by George Scott.

Woody Keeps Buckeyes Up For Contest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — First, victories over Michigan State and Penn State. Now North Carolina, a 34-7 loser to Maryland last week.

That's the situation facing Woody Hayes Saturday. But the Ohio State football coach is unruffled over a letdown by his Buckeyes.

"Not when they have a mean, old coach," he reminded newsmen Monday.

"Yes, it will be a problem, but I've been through letdowns before. I've had experience and our kids seem to listen better."

North Carolina has only a 1-1 record to Ohio State's 2-0 start.

Patty Dean Winner Of Feature

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — Patty Dean, a 17-1 longshot, outlasted favorite Our Count by a neck to win the $5,000 feature at Lebanon Raceway Monday night.

The winner went the mile in 2:08 to return $34.60, $9.80 and $5.00. Our Count, the 2-1 choice, paid $4.00 and $3.20. LaRue Girl was the show horse at $3.20.

The daily double paid $39.60 on the 6-1 combination of Claret's Boy and Fashion Boy.

A crowd of 1,301 wagered $90,644.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Talk controversial issues over in a business-like, objective fashion, not permitting personalities to enter the fray. Pay no attention to those who have proved unreliable in the past.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A fine day for artistic, literary and social interests. In all things, capitalize on your finesse. Romance favored, too.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mercury continues favorable; encourages any number of activities, including new enterprises you have been planning to launch. Sound out the competition.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Beneficent influences stimulate your astuteness and your ability to "hold things together" — even groups of people. Be sure you are motivated by good intent.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Your best assets are your dynamic personality and your gift of salesmanship. Both should make this a good day for you — IF you use them smartly.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Day starts out brightly, and you can keep it that way, if you will. Just be careful not to let irresponsible persons lead you into unproductive activities.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Reach for the unusual, the eye-catcher. Learn new methods, help create understanding among associates. Day has dandy potentials.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Be flexible enough in thought to take in a brand new idea — and make it work! Resist tendencies toward doubting and hypercriticism.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Good offerings indicated. Stress your own competence but do not hesitate to accept others' ideas if practical. Intellectual pursuits favored.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Mixed influences. Certain situations may prove confusing, but remain calm. Anxiety or hasty action could further complicate matters. Use your wits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day—if you cooperate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): When not sure, don't act! Wait until all facts are in, and KNOW what they stand for. Situations could deceive if you are not alert.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a warm and outgoing personality; are creatively inclined and highly idealistic. Your tact, courtesy and gently matters are outstanding, as are your foresightedness and integrity. Extremely versatile, there are many fields from which you can choose a career — which is bound to be highly successful — but in either statesmanship or art you will find your true metier. Other fields open to you: the law, medicine, governmental work. Birthdate of: Mark A. Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Okay, gang, time for the biannual Fearless Forecast in which we predict which of the 26 regularly-scheduled new series on television will prosper or poop out.

As in past years, the Forecast is conducted without reference to tea leaves, or their equivalent, the Nielsen ratings. All of it is, as Quasimodo might say, just a hunch. Here then, the Forecast:

SATURDAY — Howard Cosell, the Mouth that Roared, got off to a tame start with his live variety show. But it has promise and will do at least a season. Not so "Matt Helm." "Doc" also will turn his head, cough and expire shortly.

SUNDAY — "Swiss Family Robinson" will again be shipwrecked — or is landwrecked as the case may be — by January. "Family Holvak" will be similarly uprooted. "Bronk" may solve crimes, but he'll be gunned down by year's end. "Three for the Road," on the other hand, will pick up strength and wander about for at least a year.

MONDAY — "Barbary Coast" will soon leave San Francisco for the San Andreas Fault, but "Phyllis" might escape the Big Shake for a year. But only a year. "The Invisible Man," of course, hasn't a ghost of a chance.

TUESDAY — "Welcome Back, Kotter" is picking up script strength and will graduate to another season. "Joe and Sons" will last as long as Jerry Stiller is featured in it. "Switch" gets maybe a season, but "Beacon Hill," which started on the top, will be at the bottom by January, its characters more jumbled than now. "Joe Forrester," meanwhile, will pound the pavements into a second season.

WEDNESDAY — "When Things Were Rotten" will get Sherwood Forest defoliated, but it'll take a season. "Starsky and Hutch" — yechh. Half a season. "Kate McShane" will lose her final case by midyear at about the same time "Doctor's Hospital" is closed.

THURSDAY — "On the Rocks" will pound its way to a second term, making big jokes out of little ones. "The Montefuscos" will be out of pasta by January, while the liberation of "Fay" will continue for at least a year.

"Ellery Queen" also will last a year, but "Medical Story" will be DOA by midseason, despite intensive efforts at script-to-mouth resuscitation.

FRIDAY — "Mobile One," about a TV reporter, probably will get the Big Story — about its cancellation — from the January newspapers. "Big Eddie," about an ex-gambler, may last a year if CBS lets Sheldon Leonard associate more with the spirit of Damon Runyon. If not, we make book this show won't even place in the mid-season Futurity.

We end the Fearless Forecast with a reminder to stay tuned for the big show ... life is only the station break.

In 1964 a British survey team was landed by helicopter on Cook Island, the first recorded visit since its discovery in 1775.

Cincinnati Youth Appears On Rape, Kidnaping Charges

A 15-year-old Cincinnati boy recently appeared in Pickaway County Juvenile Court on charges of kidnaping and gross sexual imposition. Judge Guy G. Cline placed the boy in the temporary care of the Ohio Youth Commission.

Other appearances before Judge Cline included a 14-year-old girl charged with neglect of her 5½-month-old child. She was placed on probation until her 18th birthday and the child was placed back in her custody.

Another 14-year-old Circleville girl was placed on probation for three years for violation of probation.

Charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest were heard against a 17-year-old Kentucky boy. The court sentenced him to ten days detention and then suspended seven of the days. The boy was given credit for three days served in detention prior to his hearing. He was also fined $50 on each count and ordered to make restitution within 60 days.

Two counts of aggravated menacing brought a sentence to the Ohio Youth Commission to a 13-year-old Circleville boy. Judge Cline ordered execution of the sentence held for 90 days.

The court placed a seven-year-old girl and a five-year-old boy in the permanent custody of the Pickaway County Children's Services.

Two Circleville boys, ages 14 and 17, were each placed on probation for three years on charges of breaking and entering and grand theft.

An 18-year-old Ashville boy appeared on two counts of violation of probation. The court continued him on probation and suspended a ten-day detention sentence.

Criminal trespassing charges brought a year's probation to a 16-year-old Mt. Sterling boy.

The court also dismissed one case during the week's proceedings.

Controlling Board Defers Most Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Democrat-dominated State Controlling Board has delayed until next Monday action in a mounting dispute over the layoff of Democratic employes by the Republican Rhodes administration.

Also deferred by the board Monday, at a special meeting on several controversial problems, was a $4 million rent bill for agencies in the new State Office Tower.

Instead, the board devoted the entire day to a long series of requests by various departments and agencies to delay the payment of bills carried over from the fiscal year that ended June 30.

Under new language in the 1975-1977 budget bill, the board must approve such extensions. The Office of Budget and Management, previously had that authority.

Already under board consideration is a request for release of $8 million to prevent further layoffs in the natural resources and taxation departments. A resolution adopted by the legislature, also controlled by Democrats, earmarked those layoff prevention funds from a nearly depleted $18.8 million emergency fund.

However, the board received another request Monday from the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for $2.1 million to prevent further layoffs and transfers in that department.

Director Dr. Timothy Moritz said the release of that amount would forestall further belt tightening in the department until February.

Republicans maintain the layoffs came about as a result of budget cuts by the legislature as well as an executive order by Gov. James A. Rhodes. Democrats assert the estimated 1,500 employes released so far are members of their party who fell victim to a GOP patronage maneuver—some in violation of civil service statutes.

The board also is expected to act next week on a request for $897 million to finance the consumer protection division in the Department of Commerce. The division is unfunded as a result of the legislature's budget cuts, said Charles Rhoads, deputy director.

At the same time, Democratic Atty. Gen. William J. Brown is asking the board for $250,000 in emergency funds in order to reinstitute consumer complaint activities he said have been abandoned by the commerce department.

Nursing Homes May Nix Patients

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State welfare director Raymond F. McKenna plans no immediate action concerning a threat by nursing home representatives to stop accepting medicaid patients.

The Ohio Health Care Association said Monday notices were sent to about 1,000 Ohio nursing homes recommending that they refuse welfare patients because of the state's failure to fully implement subsidy increases called for in the new budget.

"I think we'll just have to wait and see," McKenna said Monday. "It will probably take several weeks before we know (the situation)."

McKenna said the legislature had mandated increases in state medicare reimbursements in drawing up the 1975-77 budget, but funded his department $30 million below the new level.

Consequently, McKenna instituted with August payments a prorata reduction to the homes which are for about 28,000 welfare recipients.

McKenna, points out that the homes are still receiving about $34 million more than they did in the biennium that ended June 30. He has all but given up hope of obtaining the additional $30 million from the legislature.

The Ohio Health Care Association, the Nursing Home Coalition, and the Ohio Philanthropical Homes for the Aging announced the new policy Friday. There was no immediate indication as to whether any homes were complying.

McKenna said if the threat were carried out on a large scale, the state might withdraw support from its $147 million share in the nursing home program. The state pays about 46 per cent of the medicaid cost, compared to a 54 per cent federal outlay.

However, McKenna said problems over admittance for medicaid patients would probably be dealth with on an individual basis with the homes in question.

Meanwhile, two court suits are pending to try to force the director to pay the full $30 million increase to homes.

Commissioners Lease Health Headquarters

Pickaway County Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, L. Robert Liston and Donald Strous Monday renewed the lease for two years on the Crites Building located at 705 S. Court St.

Used as the headquarters for the board of health, the property was leased at $300 per month.

In other business yesterday, commissioners opened a bid for a used tractor and mower for the Pickaway County Memorial Airport, a bid from Dayton Blank Book Co. for binding records in the recorders office and for a new cruiser for the sheriff's department.

The bid for the tractor and mower was submitted by Dunlap Co. of Williamsport in the amount of $2,800. The bid for binding the records was in the amount of $5,600. The bid for the sheriff's cruiser was submitted by Yates Motor Co.

In other business the commissioners heard a report from the assistant dog warden. He reported that 1,755 dogs have been taken in this year and that since March 1, 591 dog tags have been sold.

Council On Aging Holds Public Hearing

Central Ohio Area Agency On Aging held a Public Hearing on the planning service area for 1976 on Federal Title III and Title VII at the Luthern Parish House.

Vera Saunders, Program Coordinator of Pickaway Senior Center and Executive Delegate of the Advisory Council of the COAAOA conducted the meeting. Jerry Borin, Program Planner of COAAOA from Columbus, explained Title III and Title VII.

The purpose of the hearing was for in-put of the agencies and also of interested people for planning services of the elderly.

Those attended and who gave in-put in the hearing were; Leo Kahanek, Supervisor of the City and County Board of Health who explained how cooperation of the Senior Citizens and other ages thru cooperation of agencies served the city and county in Health Assessment Clinic and continuing to serve thru checking the blood pressures and other health related services.

He added that Medicare home patients who needed skilled nursing service and therapy could contact Pickaway County Board of Health for referral to Franklin County Board of Health for these services which serves Pickaway County residents.

Martha Seibel, Public Relation personnel of the Welfare Department stated contracts for Title XX were being accepted.

Caddy Riegels, Field Representative of the Ohio Commission On Aging reported that the Pickaway County building plan of the Senior Center had been submitted to the Ohio Commission On Aging to prevent duplication of services.

Dick Tootle, Chairman of the County Commissioners informed the group that the No. I priority was the Community Development Block Grant for building a Senior Center and asked Caddy Riegels to please help get the plans O.K.'d as soon as possible.

Blanche Kerns, Pickaway Senior Citizens President and Trustee of Pickaway Council on Aging and Pauline Jones, Alternate Delegate of the COAAOA and Chairman of the trustees of the PCOA presented the need of a mini bus for local city transportation.

Everett Shriver, Ashville Senior Citizens President, COAAOA Delegate and Virgil Six, Alternate COAAOA Delegate, explained that a Community Building was needed in Ashville and hoped it could be built now for residents to enjoy.

Twyla Lorentz, Director, explained the Center's program and new escort and out-reach service to help keep the elderly independent and longer in their homes and other supportive services available. She informed at the hearing the Fransican Community Meals program of home delivered meals to those who need this type of supportive services. Volunteers were delivering 24 meals-a-day and a new route was to be started as equipment had been purchased but needed volunteers for delivery.

Shirley Wylie attended as a representative of the Pickaway County Schools. Jerry Brown informed that legislation had been passed for serving the elderly school lunch program at the public schools. Amanda and Gahanna are now serving the elderly at noon lunches. Also in legislation is a bill to use school buses for elderly when buses are not in use and in the summer months.

Tom McClure, representative of Social Security Administration Office of Chillicothe, stated that the contact place in Pickaway County was the Pickaway Senior Center on second and fourth Thursday of each month at 9 - 11 a.m. He said the disable waiting period now is 5 months.

Sharon Eyerman, Director, gave the report of the Comprehensive Information and Referral Services given to the Agencies. Vera Saunders explained, to be able to continue the comprehensive I-R program each agency should give throught to contributing to finance the I-R program. Thru this means we would be able to apply for a Title XX financing and continue the mandated service for the agencies in Pickaway County.

The Pickaway Community Action mini bus had been helpful to the Senior Citizens and other age group in serving the rural. This program has been made possible thru the supervision of Sam Dettra, Director and Mike Melson, Executive Director.

Georgia Walker, Cancer Society Chairman, stressed the need of a public health nurse service to patients who need skilled nursing service. She stated that pap-smear tests were given every Monday evening at Berger Hospital free, thru the Family Planning for Adults.

Jerry Borin stated the goal is to have a congregate meal program site, Title VII Nutrition Service in each County by next year. Nutrition meals on the site gives the elderly one balanced meal a day which helps keep the elderly active and not isolated or lonely.

It was felt the COAAOA Public Hearing had good rapport and in-put in which planning service areas of the elderly could be better met in 1976.

Thru the sharing, explaining and learning of the needs and working toward these goals, it would help accomplish a better life for every Senior Citizen in the Pickaway County Area.

Two Wrecks Investigated By Deputies

Two injury accidents were investigated by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies Monday.

Fifty-six-year-old Cora Styers, Columbus, was cited by Deputy James Fite for failure to yield the right of way, when she was involved in a two-car wreck, 1:50 p.m.

Southbound on Route 104, Ms. Styers, after stopping at the Route 104 intersection, proceeded through the intersection striking an eastbound auto driven by Nannie K. Wright, 56, Williamsport.

Ms. Wright was treated and released at Berger Hospital for leg and arm injuries.

Drivers of vehicles involved in a near two-car accident, contacted Sheriff's Authorities after the incident occurred 3:40 p.m.

According to the report taken by Deputy J. Phillip Brown, Diane H. Berger, 37, 116 E. Union St., was stopped at the intersection of Pontious Road and Route 188 preparing to make a left turn. An unknown vehicle, in front of her auto, made a right turn with Mrs. Berger continuing to make her left turn, failing to see a westbound auto driven by Susan Foulk Rice, 22, 554 Nicholas Dr.

Mrs. Rice blew her horn and drove off the road into a ditch to avoid a collision.

Brad D. Rice, 25, passenger in his wife's auto, complained of neck injuries.

No citation was issued.

KIWANIS SPEAKERS—Dick Davis, (left), program chairman for the evening, presented Don Collins, (Right), who made a few introductory remarks concerning Issue One, which will be on the ballot this fall. It has to do with Ohio's greenbelt or recreational areas, which under the State's present tax assessment laws are, in many cases being forced out of business. Collins introduced Nick Popa, (center), of golf tournament fame, from Columbus, who along with Collins are members of the Outdoor Recreation Association. The point that each was attempting to make was that they do not ask for a tax reduction but that recreation areas (not buildings, but land) be assessed at their present use value and not at their potential value. Key Club members from the high school, who were present, were Larry Scheiber and Deyzie Serim. Advertising kits for the Charity Newspaper, to be delivered in December, were handed to each member and work on the Bicentennial Float discussed.
